Senate Votes For Five-Cent Postal Rate

Boost Would Be Effective Three Years

Move To Strip Bill Of Five-Cent Stamp Defeated 49 To 42

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (P)—The Senate tonight voted 49-42 to accept President Eisenhower's proposal for a 5-cent stamp on non-local letters but limited it to three years.

The vote was to reject an amendment of Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.) to knock out of the bill the 5-cent stamp. The vote largely followed party lines with all but two Republicans opposing the amendment.

The vote thus kept in the postal rate increase bill a provision fixing the 5-cent rate on first class out-of-town letters between July 1, 1958, and June 30, 1961, with 4 cents on local letters.

4-Cent Permanent Rate

The permanent letter rate would be 4 cents as compared with the present 3-cent stamp which has been in effect since 1932.

The President has sought a permanent 5-cent rate on nonlocal letters but nevertheless the decision constitutes a considerable victory for him and Postmaster General Summerfield.

The administration has been trying to get Congress to vote postal rate increases since it first took office in 1953, to reduce the postal deficit.

The roll call tonight settled the major decision to be made by the Senate on rates in the bill.

The House has passed a bill raising the 3-cent rate to 4 cents. When the Senate finally passes its bill, it and the House version will go to conference for adjustment.

Vote On Party Lines

The vote on the Monroney amendment found 40 Democrats and two Republicans voting to knock out the 5-cent provision; they were overcome by 44 Republicans and five Democrats.

The 175 millions annually which the 5-cent rate would bring in above a 4-cent stamp would be earmarked for each of the three years for modernization of postal facilities, post offices and their equipment.

Republicans generally credited this modernization feature with furnishing the votes needed to sustain the 5-cent rate on the floor.

In all, the bill would raise postage rates by 747 million dollars a year.

Democrats argued in closing debate that the 5-cent arrangement would be unfair and hard to administer.

Appropriation Bill Approved

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (P)—The House passed and sent to the Senate today a $2,857,882,907 supplemental appropriation bill after approving a 250-million-dollar increase in soil bank farm benefits.

Passage was by voice vote. The bill finances miscellaneous government agencies for the remaining months of the fiscal year ending June 30. Its largest allotment is $2,235,131,868 for the Agriculture Department, mainly to reimburse the Commodity Credit Corporation for financing special commodity disposal programs.

The major argument was over the United States exhibit at the international exposition starting in Brussels in April. Congress already has provided $12,345,000 for this purpose. Today's bill would authorize use of another one million dollars to be transferred from funds previously appropriated for the 1958 world trade fair in Gorki Park, Moscow.

Four Killed In Crash Of Bomber

Firemen pour water into the crater where a six-jet Strategic Air Command RB47 reconnaissance bomber crashed and exploded near Lancaster, Ohio, yesterday, killing four airmen. The plane roared low over a hill and then plunged straight down near the house, which was unoccupied. The crater is 28 feet deep and 100 by 60 feet in area. First Lt. Alvin B. Storey, 25, a former Cumberland man, was among those killed. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin B. Storey, formerly of Buckingham Road, The Dingle, and now of Charlotte, N. C. Coin Machine Setup Probed For Racket

Operators, Labor Unions, Hoodlums Linked

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (P)—The Senate Rackets Investigating Committee today disclosed it is making a nationwide inquiry into alleged collusion between labor unions, coin machine operators and gangsters to control coin machines.

The inquiry was disclosed when Mrs. Hyman (Myrtle) Lerner of Miami Shores, Fla., was called before the committee and asked about records of the Chicago Coin Machine Operators Assn. sought in a subpoena.

She said she had none of the records.

Mrs. Lerner took the Fifth Amendment to many questions put by Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel.

She also took the Fifth Amendment in refusing to say whether she knew Dutch Vogel, Red Waterfall and others who Kennedy suggested were involved in the investigation.

Kennedy told newsmen later he expects to launch hearings this spring designed to show "collusion" between unions, coin associations and "gangsters."

Wood Alcohol Party Kills Six

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (P)—Autopsies disclosed today that a weekend wood alcohol party killed two women and four men. Authorities sought to determine if there were additional victims.

The party started Sunday at the Harlem home of Mrs. Innocencia Torres, 55, and continued into Monday evening.

Eventually, the victims became ill. Two died at their homes and the others in hospitals. The bodies were taken to Bellevue Hospital for autopsies.

Police were seeking the source of the alcohol. Wood alcohol, or methanol, is a dangerous poison. The victims, all Puerto Ricans, ranged in age from 32 to 58 years.

New Cosmetic May Injure Nails, Government Warns

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (P)—The government charged today that use of a new cosmetic product known as "Ten-Day Press-on Nail Polish" might injure the nails, but the company denied the product was harmful in any way.

M. I. Schultz, president of Harrison Laboratories, Inc., of New Rochelle, said his firm had tested the product and consulted medical authorities long before it was marketed last October. He said his firm had asked for a conference with the Food and Drug Administration, which issued a warning on the product earlier.

The government agency said "disfiguring and sometimes painful injuries to the nails" can result from use of the product and that action was being taken to get it off the market. The agency

Kennedy said Red Waterfall is Mrs. Lerner's husband, whose real name is Hyman Lerner.

The committee counsel said Lerner had disappeared from Chicago with the coin association's records. He said Mrs. Lerner had been called to throw light on where the records might be.

Kennedy said the probe will involve alleged connections between the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the Teamsters Union with various coin machine operators and hoodlums.

He declined to elaborate but listed Chicago, Detroit and Cleveland as places under investigation. He said probers also are in Eastern cities.

Ike Interested In Rally Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (P)—President Eisenhower expressed interest today in the proposal of a Paterson, N.J., newspaper publisher for a "Believe in America" campaign to combat a recession.

Harry B. Haines, publisher of the Paterson Evening News, said in a front-page editorial yesterday the nation is in the "throes of a psychosomatic business slump."

"The more we talk about depression and about how bad business is, the worse we shall become. Let's start believing in America."

In reply to a question at his news conference, Eisenhower said he is not sure whether the type campaign Haines suggested is in order. But confidence in America is a most important ingredient in battling the recession, the President added.

Haines proposed that March 23 be proclaimed "Believe in America Week."

Mississippi Tornado Kills One Person

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 26 (P)—A tornado struck near Jackson tonight and killed one person and injured another.

Baptist Hospital said Cathy Jones died there of injuries suffered in the twister. Annie Hawthorne, a child was brought to University Hospital for treatment.

Heavy rain and hail preceded the twister which damaged a television tower.

The U.S. Weather Bureau issued a tornado forecast for extreme northeast Louisiana and Mississippi tonight.

Another tornado hit near Shreveport, La., injuring one person and destroying several other buildings at Houston.

Investigator Calls On Mack To Quit FCC

President Declines To Pass Judgment On Commissioner

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (P)—A House investigator said today Richard A. Mack should resign or be removed from the Federal Communications Commission, but President Eisenhower declined to pass judgment on Mack at this stage.

Eisenhower abruptly cut off news conference questioning about the propriety of Sherman Adams, his chief aide, talking with the head of another government agency on behalf of an airline.

Rep. Bennett (R-Mich.), a member of the House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight, said Mack should resign on the grounds that hearings still under way have demonstrated beyond doubt his unfitness for membership on the FCC.

Anti-Influence Bill

Bennett said in a statement that if Mack refuses to quit, Eisenhower should fire him if he has the authority to do so. Otherwise, Bennett said, Congress should bring impeachment proceedings against the commissioner.

Another member of the House group, Rep. Wolverton (R-N.J.), announced he is introducing a bill aimed at banning all attempts to bring influence to bear on members of federal regulatory agencies. The measure carries penalties up to $2,000 and three years imprisonment.

The subcommittee has heard testimony that attempts were made to influence Mack by rival groups competing for a Miami television license, and also that Mack has received thousands of dollars directly or indirectly from Thurman A. Whiteside, an old friend of his who at one time sought to help the successful applicant, a National Airlines subsidiary.

Whiteside, testifying for a third day, said Mack has received $4,340 from Andar, Inc. Whiteside said he had given Mack this company's stock.

Loans to Mack by Whiteside have totaled $2,650 since Mack went on FCC in 1955, Whiteside said. He said he has given the subcommittee documentary evidence that almost all the money has been repaid, but the investigators say they haven't been able to find the papers in their files.

Eisenhower was asked at the start of his news conference today if he thought Mack should resign or be fired. He replied he has no judgment on the matter at this time because not all the evidence has been collected.

Monday—The race was called off soon after the start when one car crashed out of control into a crowd, fatally injuring seven, hurting many. Some drivers said the course had been oil-slicked—apparently by rebels.

Tuesday—The kidnapped driver was released shortly after Monday midnight.

Wednesday—The bank raid. Striking boldly in downtown Havana, the raiders spurned cash. But pouches containing thousands of checks went up in flames. That will mean a long-time headache for government agencies and the business community.

The rebel band escaped cleanly after completing this effort to shame the Batista regime in the eyes of the Cuban people and the thousands of tourists here for the sports festival.

Four to six of Fidel Castro's rebels entered the National Bank of Cuba at 8 a. m., mingling with about 20 employees and customers. They whipped out pistols and tied up the employees in the bank's check clearing room. Then they set fire to thousands of checks and fled.

The raid wasn't discovered until smoke pouring from the bank windows attracted policemen. The fire was put out quickly. One report said most of the checks were destroyed.

Administration Will Ask Extra Defense Funds

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (P)—Secretary of Defense McElroy said today the administration soon will ask for another extra defense appropriation.

It may be as much as $1,700,000,000.

McElroy gave that information to the Senate Defense Preparedness subcommittee in a progress report on efforts to strengthen America in the space age.

He also said, in a discussion of missiles and space flight, that the Air Force and the Army are going to be shooting at the moon sometime and it probably will be earlier than later.

He further said that definite administration plans for reorganizing the Defense Department may be expected during March.

Three members of the House Armed Services Committee, Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) and Reps. Arends (R-Ill.) and Kilday (D-Tex.) introduced a reorganization bill of their own.

They described it as an effort at streamlining. It would reduce from 29 to 15 the number of secretaries and assistant secretaries in the Army, Air Force, Navy and Defense Department. It would reduce the number of civilian employees in the Defense Department from 2,400 to 600.

The bill would retain the Joint Chiefs of Staff system, in which the heads of the military departments form a joint committee on military policy.

$4 Billion Aid "Rock Bottom," Dulles Declares

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (P)—Secretary of State Dulles told Congress today the administration's plea for a $3,942,000,000 foreign aid program is a "rock bottom" request.

Any cuts below that figure, he told the House Foreign Affairs Committee, would seriously impair the program.

His statement served to define sharply the skirmish lines between the administration and a number of congressmen over the program. There is strong sentiment in Congress for sharp cuts.

Dulles went to great pains in a formal statement to the committee to deny that the program is a "give away."

"There would have been and there would be a 'give away' if we did not have it," he asserted. "We would indeed have 'given away' the access which we and other nations have to essential resources. We would indeed have 'given away' essential bases."

The Soviet political-economic offensive now under way in new or underdeveloped nations of the world, he said, is part of a gradual encirclement and eventual strangulation of the more developed free nations.

If the United States fails to respond effectively, he said, there will be a gradual diminution of the perimeter of freedom until the United States and its allies will be but a beleaguered island in a Red sea.

Food Prices Climb

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (P)—Wholesale food prices inched ahead again this week, Dun & Bradstreet reported today.

At $6.60 the organization's food index was a cent higher than last week and again was the highest since the $6.63 recorded in a week ended March 1, 1955. This week's reading was up 8 per cent from $6.11 in the year-ago week.

U.S. Seeks Way To Utilize Plutonium As Atomic Fuel

CHICAGO, Feb. 26 (P)—The United States launched a 10-million-dollar effort today to convert the man-made atomic explosive plutonium to peacetime use as a fuel for nuclear power reactors.

The Atomic Energy Commission authorized its Argonne National Laboratory near Chicago to construct a fuels technology center where work will be speeded on the many problems involved.

Success "would have tremendous implications in the atomic age. It would create a huge demand for a substance whose use has been limited almost entirely to atomic weapons and research. It would free foreign nations of their strong reliance on the United States as a source of atomic fuel."

Most commercial nuclear reactors now being built use a mixture of natural uranium and uranium 235 as fuel for producing heat for the generation of electricity. The reactors also produce plutonium as a by-product.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (P)—President Eisenhower disclosed today that he and Vice President Nixon have a definite understanding of what Nixon will do in an emergency if the chief executive becomes unable to carry on his duties.

Eisenhower kept terms of the agreement a secret. But obviously it would embrace some arrangement for the vice president to shoulder at least part of the presidential responsibilities.

On other major points, Eisenhower told a news conference:

1. A tax cut is "a possibility if there is any deepening of the depression that requires it."

Upturn Seen In March

But more jobs may open up in March and "mark the beginning of the end of this recession." And with the government asking record sums for such things as public works, agriculture and peace-time defense, "you have got to try to get some money in your purse to pay for the bills." So,

"Certainly you don't want to go into a tax cut until that is necessary to bring about the upturn."

It was the first time Eisenhower had referred to the economic setback as a depression. White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said afterward that "I think he meant 'recession.'" Most Republican politicians prefer to call it a business dip.

2. Secretary of Agriculture Benson, target of resignation demands from some Republican House members from the farm belt, is a man of dedication, courage and intellectual and personal honesty. Those who are advising he be fired, Eisenhower said, "are badly mistaken."

3. The presidential views on taxes and Benson were somewhat repetitive of what Eisenhower previously had said. But the fact that an agreement has been worked out on Nixon's role in the event of presidential disability was something new.

4. The investigations committee heard from some witnesses today, including Dale Oostdyk, a non-striking worker at the Kohler plant.

Oostdyk testified that union pickets captured him on company property after he tried to go to work. He beat and kicked him and "told me I should be killed."

The later discussion on the Senate floor was set off by Knowland with a declaration that government property was no place for such a news conference as Reuther held. He said he would object just as vigorously if someone from the Kohler Co. had been granted use of a hearing room as a forum to attack a senator.

Goldwater, Aide Barred

Goldwater interrupted that he would be "remiss in my duty to myself" if he failed to reply to Reuther who, he said, was "such a coward he locked the doors" of the conference room during the news conference.

"I couldn't get in," Goldwater said. "My assistant couldn't get in."

He did not say who barred him from the room. Reporters had been able to go in and out during the news conference.

Reuther accused Goldwater of "stooping" for the Kohler Co. and called him "a political hypocrite and a moral coward."

Goldwater retorted that the statement in which the UAW chief attacked him was "a typical lie of Walter Reuther." The two men have been at odds for months.

Six-Jet Bomber Crash Kills Four

LANCASTER, Ohio, Feb. 26 (P)—A six-jet Strategic Air Command RB47 reconnaissance bomber crashed and exploded six miles south of this central Ohio community today, killing four crew members.

Air Force Col. William Rudell, officer investigating the crash, said the plane was stationed at Lockbourne Air Force Base near Columbus and was on a training flight.

Witnesses said the plane roared low over a hill, then plunged almost straight down near an unoccupied house and a gas line compressor station. The crash tore a huge crater in the ground and scattered bits of wreckage over a wide area.

Several bills are pending before Congress which would prohibit subscription television.

The FCC had been asked by the Senate and House Commerce Committees to shelve pay TV trials. It did so after an all-day closed session.

The commission had announced last October that it would begin processing applications after March 1.

Labor Leader's Use Of Senate Caucus Room Stirs Storm

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (P)—Walter Reuther's use of the Senate caucus room as a forum in which to call Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) a "moral coward" drew a hot demand tonight for a Senate investigation.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, voiced the demand in a Senate speech. Knowland's speech was interrupted by an angry blast from Goldwater calling Reuther a coward himself, and a man who "wouldn't know the truth from his left foot."

Sen. Hennings (D-Mo.), chairman of the Senate Rules Committee, promptly promised an inquiry. He told Knowland that no one from the Rules Committee had been consulted before someone allowed Reuther to hold the news conference in the big red-carpeted caucus room in the Senate Office Building.

Knowland arose in the Senate to call for the inquiry six hours after Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, had come to Capitol Hill and fired blasts at both Goldwater and the Senate Rackets Committee on which Goldwater serves.

Smear Move, Reuther Says

The committee had refused to let Reuther be the leadoff witness in public hearings on violence in the Kohler strike in Wisconsin, and Reuther contended this was a move that would smear the union.

Reuther's thesis was that Goldwater and his colleagues wanted to let critics of the union be heard first, and let him appear when it was too late to overcome their testimony.

The investigations committee heard from some witnesses today, including Dale Oostdyk, a non-striking worker at the Kohler plant.

Oostdyk testified that union pickets captured him on company property after he tried to go to work. He beat and kicked him and "told me I should be killed."

Soviets Report: 'Transplanted Head' Dog Kept Alive For Six Days

MOSCOW, Feb. 26 (P)—Soviet biologists claim they have transplanted a dog's head onto a puppy's body and kept the resulting animal alive for six days after the operation.

They also claim to have kept another dog's amputated head alive for six hours after amputation and successfully sewn back another dog's paw in its original place 25 hours after amputation.

These and other experiments were described at the first national biological conference held in Moscow late last year. Accounts of them were published today in the popular science magazine "Science and Life."

The experiments are aimed ultimately at solving the problem of transplanting human limbs, and so

Sisters Reunited With Their Dad

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 26 (P)—Two sisters have been reunited with their father for the first time in 40 years.

"We're the happiest people in town," said Mrs. Stella Smith, 44, and Mrs. Mabel Kiper, 46, after the meeting with James Tomlin last week at his home in Ethridge, Ky.

The sisters, natives of Cincinnati, were taken to Ormsby Village, an orphanage here, after their mother died in the 1917 flu epidemic.

Mrs. Smith later entered nurses training and now works in the delivery room at St. Joseph Infirmary here.

"All these years the only relative I thought I had was my sister," she said.

The sisters were located by an uncle, Jasper Tomlin, who lives with their 79-year-old father.

Student With 'Urge To Kill' Slays Girl, 17

SAN JOSE, Calif., Feb. 26 (P)—A Stanford University sophomore drove up to a police station, told the desk sergeant he had shot a 17-year-old girl to death and directed officers outside where the body lay in a car.

And, Thomas Wallace Cordry III said today, he had felt the urge to kill frequently in the last year.

"I was able to resist them all until this last time," Cordry told Police Capt. William Salt and reporters at a news conference in the Santa Clara County jail.

"I can't explain it," said Cordry, 19, of the death of Deena Bonn, Palo Alto high school girl who lived across the street from him.

"It's too much for me," Cordry went on. "I made a mistake. I'm ready to face it. I'll never make it again. I guess it's really a sex problem."

Thomas Wallace Cordry Jr., San Francisco insurance executive, and his wife, Helen, said after visiting their son they would stand by him and "try to find out where the truth lies."

Mrs. Cordry said the son is a shy boy who had been taught to take very good care of girls—"an old-fashioned type of education on sex."

"Probably we were much too rigid in the sex morality we instilled in the boy," she said.

Capt. Salt said young Cordry walked into the Palo Alto police station last night and said to the desk sergeant: "I want to report a killing. I shot a girl and she's out in the car."

"The boy told us," said Salt, "that he bought a .22 caliber rifle yesterday afternoon for the express purpose of picking up a girl killing her, raping her, and leaving the body in the foothills, in that order."

Cordry denied he raped Deena. Salt said Cordry drove around several hours without finding a girl to pick up, then about 10 p.m. phoned Deena at her home.

Police quoted Cordry as saying he asked Deena to drive him to a railroad station and return his car home. She agreed, but Cordry drove instead to the ROTC armory at Stanford. There Cordry fired a single bullet into Deena's head, Salt said.

Town Retaken By Indo Troops

JAKARTA, Indonesia, Feb. 26 (P)—The central government of Premier Djuanda today claimed capture of a rebel-held town in North Celebes but lost political ground in South Sumatra.

An army communique said troops loyal to Jakarta seized Gorontalo, a town of 16,000 on a northern peninsula of Celebes.

The northern part of the big spider-shaped island northeast of here has been under the control of rebellious military commanders. They declared their support for the rebel regime in Sumatra when it was proclaimed Feb. 15.

The army did not say whether there was resistance or casualties in the action, the first by ground troops since the rebellion began. The army said the local people, including military leaders, helped the government forces.

New political demands faced the Djuanda government as it pressed the military campaign against the rebels. An organization representing all political parties in South Sumatra except the Communists demanded the resignation of the Djuanda Cabinet.

South Sumatra has refused to join the central Sumatra rebel regime but has urged the central government to compromise and has warned against violent suppression of the rebellion.

Vast Road Program Proposed By Fallon

BALTIMORE, Feb. 26 (P)—Rep. George H. Fallon (D-Md.) told a group of highway officials today that an answer to a sagging economy could be a mammoth highway construction program.

Fallon, chairman of a subcommittee on roads of the House Public Works Committee, said that such a program would not be a crash program, for state and federal highway and public works departments already have mapped out a broad and comprehensive program to pursue in an orderly manner.

The Baltimore congressman addressed the opening session of a three-day conference of the Association of Highway Officials of the North Atlantic States.

He said he knew of no better way to stabilize the economy—it needed—than a souped-up highway program, which would provide hundreds of thousands of jobs as well as improve the nation's roads.

Korean Boy's 'Punishment' Stirs Protests

SEOUL, Korea, Feb. 26 (P)—The U.S. Army today promised "appropriate action" in the case of a Korean boy who was crated up and carried off in a helicopter after he was caught stealing at a military base.

The Korean press complained bitterly about the incident. Some Korean citizens said it was "lynch style" punishment. South Korean officials said privately it may touch off new demands for a status-of-forces agreement governing the rights of U.S. troops.

The Army report said the boy was placed "in a wooden packing box used for transporting aircraft parts" and flown by helicopter to an airfield at Uijongbu, 25 miles away. The pilot was identified as Maj. Thomas G. Jones of Plymouth, Pa.

The box was 2x2x4 feet, had air holes and was not completely closed during the flight, an Army spokesman said, adding that the boy, "apparently unharmed, was released and departed from the airstrip."

Nazis Burned Reichstag 25 Years Ago To Start War March

BERLIN, Feb. 26 (P)—Twenty-five years ago on Feb. 27 Adolf Hitler's henchmen set fire to the Reichstag building. The flames destroyed Germany's parliamentary democracy. The Nazi march to World War II began.

Now the gutted building, grim symbol of defeated, divided Germany, broods over the border gateway to Communist East Berlin. Only in recent months has work begun to reclaim the looted, rat-infested ruin.

Envisioning Berlin restored as capital of a unified Germany, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has spurred reconstruction.

Few Germans believe Adenauer now 82, will ever see an all-Germany Parliament reassemble there. But the dream has drawn enough support to win an initial reconstruction grant from the crucial national elections—the coalition Cabinet agreed as a temporary emergency measure to suspend constitutional liberty guarantees. Hitler swore in his storm troopers as police. His totalitarian grip closed on Germany that 20 separate fires were kindled and never relaxed until defeat in World War II.

Impartial investigators later agreed the Nazis themselves engineered the fire to justify their power grab. Hermann Goering, West German Parliament, was accused by anti-Nazis of sending a gang of arsonists through the tunnel linking his palace with the parliamentary building. Evidence that separate fires were kindled to bear out this theory.

Md. House Approves Potomac Gambling Ban

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 26 (P)—The House passed and sent to the Senate tonight a bill aimed at outlawing slot machine joints just off the Virginia shore of the Maryland-owned Potomac River.

The vote was 108-8.

The House measure—sponsored by Minority Leader Hughes (R-Allegany), Majority Leader Boone (D-Balto County) and Del. Brewster (D-Balto County)—is identical with one nudged one step nearer passage by the Senate earlier in the day.

The Senate bill was given semi-final approval, but opponents continued to fight a delaying action.

Stranded TV-Travelogue Party Heading Home From South Seas

SUVA, Fiji Islands, Feb. 26 (AP)—The South Sea Islands are soon to say farewell to the last of an American TV-travelogue filming party stranded three weeks by engine trouble on their chartered Catalina flying boat.

Three of the nine-member party left Nadi, Fiji, by plane for San Francisco yesterday. These are pilot Capt. J. E. Jones and co-pilot H. J. A. Court of Malayan Airways, who are to return with a spare engine being shipped for the Catalina — and chief cameraman Fortin of Magellan Productions, Inc.

Others in a collection of professionals and amateurs Hollywood film producer Stuart V. Jewell, who has been making travel and nature films for several years as an independent contractor. His plan was to record interesting sights of the world from the viewpoint of specialists, such as film producer Stuart V. Jewell, who has been making travel and nature films for several years as an independent contractor.

These are Jewell, his wife, Richard Benson, a Philadelphia lawyer, Mrs. Ruth Schwob, a businesswoman of Columbus, Ga., sound recorder Boyce Well, and a cameraman named Musser.

One engine of the flying boat conked out on a flight from Suva and forced a landing Feb. 3 on volcanic Parotonga which, though totaling only 25 square miles, is the largest of the Cook Islands.

School Crossing Guards Organize

CINCINNATI, Feb. 26 (AP)—School crossing guards here want more money and they have banded together to seek it. They obtained state incorporation papers at Columbus yesterday that make them members of the School Crossing Guards Union Local 1.

Otto Beyer, a trustee of the new group, said the guards organized because "we don't get enough money."

He said the guards are paid $1.20 an hour, work a 2½-hour day, and average $50 to $60 a month.

"Some other cities pay $1.50 to $1.60 an hour," Beyer said.

OFFERS HALF MILLION IF SHE'LL WED — Actress Sharon Lee, former wife of singer David Street, and Tony Vito, a wealthy Lodi, Calif., produce man, talk over his offer to establish a $500,000 trust fund for her if she'll marry him. Vito, who spends a lot of time in Hollywood, said "this town is full of sharpshooters who want to know what you can do for them, but Sharon is different." Sharon said Vito's offer is true, "but it all happened too fast I want to think." (AP Photofax)

Passenger Ship Sunk Year Ago May Again Ply Routes Of Turkish Vessels

By WEBB MCKINLEY

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Feb. 26 (AP)—On Feb. 3 last year, a new white passenger ship named Izmir wrecked in the Aegean Sea, owner of the steamed into Izmir harbor with a voyage group of 244 passengers and aboard.

It was Sunday morning, the weather was sunny. Nineteen hours previously the passengers had embarked at Istanbul for the overnight trip—a favorite way of spending a pleasant weekend sailing through the Turkish Straits and the Aegean Sea. The time was 9:30 a. m.

As the Izmir entered the harbor, an American freighter, the Howell Lykes of the Lykes Lines, was heading out for Istanbul.

Ten minutes later the vessels collided. A great gash was torn in the starboard side of the Izmir. Three of her passengers and two of her crew were killed. Six hours later, the 6,800-ton vessel, only 14 months old, settled on her side on the bottom of the harbor. About a fourth of her hull remained above water. There she lay, for 378 days, a dead and apparently forgotten vessel.

Now, like a barnacled ghost, the Izmir sits upright at the scene of her disaster, righted by an Italian salvage crew, which is working to put her to rights. One day, contrary to all predictions, the Izmir again may ply the routes of Turkish passenger ships, assessed 18 per cent of the responsibility.

But he has been kept in Izmir, free on his own recognizance, pending the repeatedly delayed trial.

His ship, the Howell Lykes, still calls at Turkish ports, with another skipper at her helm.

After the sinking, Turkish insurance companies paid a total of $4,214,285 to the Maritime Bank for the loss. The bank then entered the bidding to buy the wreck, and won with a bid of $410,714.

An Italian salvage firm, Societa Siciliana Salvataggio, was given a contract to try righting the Izmir. Outlets were sealed and compressed air was pumped into the hull which was leaning in the water at an 85-degree list. After seven hours and 55 minutes she was listing at only 16 degrees, and the first phase was completed.

The Izmir still rests on the bottom, but the Maritime Bank has decided to go ahead with the repair project. The next step is to make temporary repairs in the gash in her starboard side and then refloat her. Eventually, she will be towed to a repair dock, possibly Naples.

Capt. Hans Beck of New Orleans, La., skipper of the Howell Lykes, remains in Izmir awaiting a criminal trial that automatically follows such mishaps in Turkey. A commission of marine experts, after studying the collision, ruled that 82 per cent of the responsibility rested with the Turkish captain of the Izmir, also awaiting trial. Capt. Beck, who was not at the wheel of the Lykes — the ship being guided out of the harbor by a Turkish pilot — was

13 Students Of Textile Union Learning Best Way To Get Congressman's Ear

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—The class began, and the students settled down to study their unusual subject: "How to visit your congressman."

In this specialized age, you can't just drop by your legislator's office and say, "gee, how about voting for this?" Or, rather, you can, but you're not likely to get startling results.

So 13 students of the Textile Workers Union, from Tennessee, Alabama and New Jersey, are here learning the best way to get a congressman's ear, and, if possible, his vote.

Maybe you hadn't thought about it, but each of us is a potential lobbyist. We not only have the right, but maybe even the duty, to let our congressmen know how we feel on issues that vitally affect us.

So let's see how the job is best done. For the techniques they use should work equally well in any situation.

The professor was Hy Bookbinder, a professional CIO-AFL lobbyist.

"One of your basic responsibilities," Bookbinder said, "is to learn how to state your point of view. Remember there aren't very many countries in which this can be done. Ever hear of a Russian worker delegation going to a Russian Parliament?"

Nobody had, and Bookbinder turned to a brief civics lesson. He pointed out that the committee chairman has vast power, that he can push legislation he wants and block legislation he doesn't want, that he gets his job by seniority.

"Now in unions, seniority is a pretty thing," Bookbinder said. "We fight for seniorities in unions, so we like to see it practiced in Congress, don't we?"

"Yes," said a scholar, falling into the trap.

"No, we don't," Bookbinder said. "In our unions we say that if men have equal qualifications, the job should go to the man with the seniority."

"You can be the biggest dope in Congress, but you've been here 32 years. Now there's a genius on the committee but he's been here only 30 years. So you get the chairman's job automatically."

Bookbinder now was ready to advise how to visit a congressman.

"Be intelligent," he said. "Be polite. Be firm. Be informed. Don't go in with a chip on your shoulder. If you came only to show anger, then stay at home."

"Mostly you can convince a congressman with facts. He doesn't care too much if five million people in this country are unemployed, but if you tell him 3,000 men in his district are out of work, that means something."

And Bookbinder stressed a point often overlooked by us amateur lobbyists.

"You are way ahead of me in convincing your congressman," said the old pro Bookbinder. "You, and those you represent, vote in his district."

Fronzizi Again Shows Politics Does Make Odd Bedfellows

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 26 (AP)—Arturo Fronzizi, an ascetic-looking intellectual, has demonstrated again that politics does make strange bedfellows.

The 49-year-old lawyer, whose name is pronounced Ar-too-roh-Fron-dee-see, was elected president of Argentina with the support of one of the most widely ranging political conglomerations ever assembled here.

Fronzizi heads the leftist and nationalistic wing of the traditional middle-of-the-road Radical Civic Union.

He says he did not ask for any support outside his party. Nevertheless, his backers stretched all the way from the local, legal and Communist party to the right wing Nationalists.

Fronzizi, author of a score of books on economic and sociological subjects, was the United Radical party's candidate for vice president in 1951. The Radicals were bucking the all-powerful regime headed by Juan D. Peron. Their presidential candidate was Ricardo Balbin.

After their defeat in that election, the Radicals split. One group followed Fronzizi. The others rallied behind the milder, more moderate faction represented by Balbin.

A man who feels certain of where he is going, he claims to be the interpreter of the true ideas behind the Radical party and its late, popular leader, Hipolito Yrigoyen, Argentina's first freely elected president.

Born in the little town of Paso de los Libres in Corrientes Province Oct. 20, 1908, Fronzizi comes from a family of Italian extraction. His older brother, Silvio, is a lawyer and professor. His young brother, Rissieri, a doctor of philosophy, has visited Yale and other U.S. universities as a lecturer. He now is rector of Buenos Aires University.

Arturo is married to the former Elena Fazzionato. They have a 22-year-old daughter.

Fronzizi was elected to Congress in 1946 and was one of a small group of Radicals who braved the Peronista-packed Congress until 1952. He was jailed once or twice by Peron's police.

A serious, correct man in social gatherings, he rarely shows any sign of humor.

Prince Philip Made Honorary Dentist

LONDON, Feb. 26 (AP)—Prince Philip was made an honorary dentist yesterday.

The British Dental Assn. enrolled him as a member but politely warned he could not practice.

"For the first time I was looking forward to my next visit to the dentist because when he had finished with me I was proposing to say 'Now it's your turn,'" he replied.

Philip made it clear he was not a good performer in the dentist chair—"I very seldom go and then it very nearly takes a general anaesthetic to get me in."

How Do You Worship GOD?

Ask that question of 100 people and you'll get 100 answers.

Episcopalians believe there's only one answer—you worship God as a part of a group of people meeting together on the Lord's Day and in His Church.

And we believe that the service of worship is something in which everyone should take part. That's why we Anglicans—40,000,000 of us the world over—use "The Book of Common Prayer" (in whatever country it's used, it's in the language of the country) so that we may all take part in the service.

We're convinced that when we worship God in this way, we'll be the better able to carry that worship of God out into our everyday lives in the world in which we live and work.

The teaching of the Episcopal Church is practical, workable, down to earth—a religious approach that helps you to use Christianity to meet the problems of every day living. We find in the Church and its Sacraments a source of strength and comfort beyond words to describe.

Wouldn't you like to know more about it? Visit the Episcopal Church near you—soon. You'll find a friendly welcome.

Gasoline Prices Drop In Area

"Across the board" decreases of eight cents in the price of gasoline have resulted here since shortly before the first of the year, a spot check showed yesterday.

But sources close to the scene say the drop is temporary and could end at any time.

One of the decreases of two cents occurred in December and three have resulted since. There was another two cent drop in January and two this month.

Prices for regular gas are in the neighborhood of 21.9 and 22.9 a gallon; for high test about 25 and 26; and the "super" high octane gas about 28 and 29 cents.

The effect of these lower prices is felt generally since it originated at the company level. Unofficially, some of the reasons cited for the price decrease are a gasoline surplus, loss of business, and consumer resistance to the higher prices.

In citing the belief the decrease is temporary, one source said it has happened "a dozen times before."

The present drop is not as much as about two years ago when regular gas dipped to 15 and 16 cents a gallon.

Sheriff To Sell Plant Equipment

All of the manufacturing machinery and equipment of Tach-Fast Manufacturing Company, Inc. in Lonaconing will be sold by Sheriff Edward R. Muir at an auction at the plant on Advocate Court, Lonaconing, at 10 a. m. Saturday, March 8.

All equipment of the plant, office and warehouse will be sold to satisfy claims against the company.

Featured In Play

Members of the eighth grade of Cresaptown Junior High School will present a one-act play, "A Mink Coat Is Only Skin Deep," on Friday at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium under the direction of James N. Long. Two members of the cast having featured roles are Carol Ann Kemp, left, and Sondra Boor. That same evening the ninth grade students will present a comedy, "The Best Policy," directed by Augustine Diaz. During the intermission, the seventh graders will present a musical program under the direction of Miss Ann Thompson and Miss Susan Mosteller.

Two Area Men Indicted For Income Tax Evasion

BALTIMORE — (AP) — A federal grand jury yesterday in Baltimore indicted two Western Maryland men on income tax evasion charges.

Blain Frantz, 52-year-old Friendsville lumber and cattle dealer, was charged with evading $25,240 in income taxes from 1951 through 1953. The indictment accuses Frantz of understating his income by more than $65,000 during the three-year period.

The government contends Frantz earned more than $55,000 in 1951 but reported only $12,772 for tax purposes. The next year he reported a small loss, the accusation says, but actually earned more than $16,000. In 1953, it added, Frantz earned $11,326 in 1953 but reported only $4,924 on his tax form.

Alexander J. Schute, 50, a Cumberland roofing contractor, was charged with evading $4,666 in income taxes from 1951 through 1954. The indictment says he reported earning only about $7,000 over the four years while he should have reported a total of about $26,000.

Bar Group To Honor Judge

Members of the Allegany County Bar Association will have a stag cocktail party and dinner Saturday, March 15, at 6:30 p. m. at the Cumberland Country Club in honor of Chief Judge George Henderson.

Judge Henderson retires from the bench as of March 17 upon reaching the mandatory retirement age of 70 years. He has served on the bench for the fourth Judicial Circuit since 1946 when he was elected.

Judge Henderson, a native of Cumberland, has been active in civic and governmental affairs for many years and is a former mayor of Cumberland. He served in the Army during both World War I and II, with overseas service during the first World War.

When Judge Henderson leaves the bench there will be only one judge for Allegany County. Judge Morgan C. Harris will be the presiding judge for Allegany County after March 17.

James S. Getty, assistant state's attorney, is in charge of the dinner event.

The average American buys about eight pencils a year.

No One Has Filed For City Hall Jobs; Primary Election Is Set Here June 3

Wallace Ullery, city clerk, said that to date not one candidate for mayor or council has filed his application in his office.

And, as one City Hall official said, "It's beginning to look like no one wants the job."

The filing fee for council is $25 and for mayor, $40. The deadline for candidates to get their hats in the ring is May 23.

The deadline for voters to register is May 13, Ullery noted.

When contacted yesterday, about running for re-election, Mayor Roy W. Eves was non-committal.

Names being mentioned for the mayoral post include Eves, John J. Long, present finance commissioner; J. Goodloe Jackson, local grocery concern official and Board of Education member, and F. Perry Smith, South End factory owner.

For council, Long has also been mentioned, along with the three other incumbents, William J. Edwards, veteran water commissioner; William V. Keegan, police and fire commissioner, and William H. Buchholz, street commissioner.

There also has been some talk of a ticket from "Big Six," the powerful Sixth Precinct in South End, but this has not been confirmed.

Also mentioned as possible council candidates have been Mrs. Lucile Roeder, former street commissioner; George Tederick, former water commissioner, and Earl Nonnenmann, local businessman.

However, the stillness might be the lull before a storm as county politics is currently taking the limelight.

The next four years will be a challenge for the Mayor and Council with the big overhead bridge slated in the Cumberland Thruway along with other projects and their related problems.

TO SPEAK HERE — Rev. Charles E. Greenaway (above) will speak today at 7:30 p. m. at the First Assembly of God Church, 23 Elder Street, on his experiences as a missionary to French West Africa. After his furlough ends he will return to Africa to work among the people of Senegal.

Two B&O Men Retire Here

Two veteran B&O Railroad Company employees have retired here.

They are Andrew Kompanek, 511 Pearre Avenue, who was shop foreman at the Bolt and Forge Shops forge section, and George Frank Messman, 106 Independence Street, who was a clerk typist at the Bolt and Forge Shops.

Kompanek entered the service of the B&O here in 1923 as shop foreman. He had previously been employed by the Maryland Bolt and Nut Company in Baltimore.

Kompanek, a native of Prague, Bohemia, has a son, Rudy, who is employed at the Bolt and Forge Shops.

Messman had 51 years and two months service all in clerical positions with the B&O here. He worked at various times in the superintendent's office, the accounting department, master mechanic's office, coal billing office and for the past eight years at the Bolt and Forge office.

His wife is the former Maud Ansel and they have one son, G. Kenneth Messman, 619 Baker Street.

Medical Society Elects Officers

Dr. Hilda Jane Walters, Frostburg physician, is the new president of the Allegany-Garrett County Medical Society.

She succeeds Dr. Benedict Skitarelle who was named one of the two delegates to the Maryland Medical Society convention.

Other officers include Dr. Leland B. Ransom, vice president; Dr. Carlton Brinsfield, secretary, and Dr. Thomas F. Lewis, treasurer. The other delegate to the state society is Dr. Donald Grove.

Cub Pack I To Meet

A meeting of Cub Pack I will be held Friday at 6 p. m. at Columbia Street School. A dinner will be served and Willis Smith, Scout executive, will speak.

Equity Suits Filed

Three equity suits have been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court. The bills of complaint were titled George L. Aldridge vs. Edna Aldridge, Ruby Orndorf vs. Claude W. Orndorf and Elizabeth S. Tabor vs. Ray S. Tabor.

Westvaco Net Income Dips

The cost-price squeeze combined with reduced rates of operation cut into the earnings of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company during the first quarter of fiscal year 1958, ended Jan. 31, David L. Luke, president, reported yesterday.

The paper company's net income for the period amounted to $1,899,000, equal to 35 cents per share, as against $3,042,000, or 57 cents per share, for the same period in 1957.

Net sales remained on a par with last year, amounting to $47,337,000 for the first three months of 1958, as compared with $48,556,000 for the first quarter of 1957.

At a meeting held yesterday, the company's board of directors declared a regular quarterly dividend of 40 cents per share on the company's common stock. The dividend is payable April 1, to stockholders of record at 3 p. m. on March 10.

Mr. Luke attributed part of the decline in earnings to the increased capacity of the industry at large, combined with the downturn in the general economy of the country. These two factors held the demand for pulp, paper and paperboard below current capacity, both of the industry and the company, he said.

"Just as the boom of a year ago was more apparent than real, so is the outlook of today better than superficial appearances might indicate," Mr. Luke said.

Council Will Study Jobless Pay Increases

A bill to liberalize Maryland's unemployment compensation law got an unfavorable report from a Senate committee in Annapolis yesterday and then the House committee considering a similar measure referred its bill to the Legislative Council for study before the 1959 session of the General Assembly.

Delegate Noel Speir Cook, who with Delegate Lester B. Reed, introduced the bill in the House of Delegates, reported last night that he requested the House Judiciary Committee, of which he is a member, to refer the matter to the Legislative Council for interim study.

Delegate Cook said he did that after receiving word that the Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee had given an unfavorable report to the companion measure introduced by Senator Charles M. See in the Senate.

He thought that rather than risk a possible unfavorable report before the House Judiciary Committee it would be better to get the Legislative Council to study the bill.

Both bills would have increased from 26 to 39 the number of weeks eligible persons may receive unemployment benefits. No state now provides compensation for more than 26 weeks but federal legislation has been proposed to extend the limit to 39 weeks.

United Fund Group To Meet Here Tonight

The first annual meeting of the County United Fund Inc., will be held today at 7:30 p. m. in the Central YMCA.

The agenda will include the election of 50 directors for three-year terms; the election of six members of the UF board to the executive committee, also for three-year terms; the presidential report; campaign chairman's report; and the 1958 campaign award presentations.

Pa. Motorist Charged With Manslaughter

Raymond D. Myers, 33, of Roaring Spring, Pa., has been charged with involuntary manslaughter by a Bedford County coroner's jury in a fatal accident February 15 west of Bedford.

Killed in the crash was Raymond Kennedy, 49, also of Roaring Spring. Myers was released under $1,000 bond and the jury recommended that he be held for action of the grand jury.

Myers, driver of one of the cars in which the victim was a passenger, and William W. Smith, 21, of Artemas, Rt. 1, driver of the other car, were both injured. The crash occurred along Route 30 on Mile Level east of Bedford.

In another fatal highway accident Tuesday night the jury cleared Gordon Hileman, 38, of Uniontown, driver of a Continental Trailways Bus which crashed on the ice-coated Pennsylvania Turnpike January 14 causing the death of three passengers.

They ruled the accident was "unavoidable." State Police testified the roadway was not cindered when the crash occurred. The bus was sliced in half as it crashed into a bridge abutment 13 miles west of Bedford.

The three persons who died were Miss Marion Lay, 55, of New York; Charles Malloy, 22, a soldier from Albia, Iowa; and Mrs. Clemmie Johnson, 24, of Pittsburgh.

A fourth passenger, James J. Murray, a soldier from Morem, Utah, was critically injured and is still a patient in Walter Reed Army Hospital, Washington.

Moose Board Meets Tonight

Local Insurance Office Gets Two Plaques Tonight

The Cumberland District Office of the Home Beneficial Life Insurance Company Inc., managed by Ray F. Hamner, will be presented two plaques this evening for work in the insurance field during the past year.

They will be accepted by Mr. Hamner during a banquet at 7 p. m. at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. R. W. Wiltshire, of the Richmond, Va. office, a vice president of the firm, will present a company plaque and the Northern Division plaque will be presented by B. B. Baker Jr., assistant vice president.

The Cumberland District, according to Mr. Hamner, closed the year 1957 with first place positions on industrial increase, ordinary increase and collections.

"Guest speaker will be Anthony Saeli, manager of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Hamner will be toastmaster, and invocation will be by Rev. Archie Prevatte, pastor of First Baptist Church.

Among the guests will be William C. Walsh, former Maryland insurance commissioner, who will give a brief talk. This is the first time in the history of the company that any district has been first in all three phases.

Some 125 couples are expected to attend a dance which will bring this evening's program to a close.

Mr. Hamner said the company is giving a week's outing at New Orleans in May for the firm's leaders in 1957. Ten men from the local office who have qualified as delegates to the convention and entitled to take their wives are:

Mr. Hamner, Ray H. Morrissey, Oliver N. Murphy, and Laurence M. Roberson, assistant managers, Christopher Crawford Jr., Lester D. Crawford, Neff C. Herring, Donald D. Lantz, George A. Rendar and Willard L. Wenrich, agents.

U.S. Philanthropy Keeps Growing

Who said Americans are stingy, self-centered individuals interested solely in the advancement of their own selfish aims? Enemies, internal and external, of American capitalism have said so, as have others envious of the high living standards in this country.

Statistics now completed for 1957 show how wrong these critics are. Americans gave $6.5 billion last year to many philanthropic activities, placing philanthropy in No. 4 place, after manufacturing, agriculture and trade, as one of the nation's largest businesses. In addition to this money, each level of government—federal, state and local—now donates heavily to various welfare funds.

Approximately 50 per cent of the privately donated money goes to religious institutions. Most of the remainder goes to various educational, welfare and health causes. Dumb animals receive their share through the support of such institutions as zoos and humane societies.

One important change has taken place in the field of charity in the last quarter century. Very little of the money collected today is given to needy persons in the form of cash handouts or articles for physical needs. Various branches of the government have practically absorbed this function. Most of the private donations go into research and such social services as counseling, guidance, recreation and rehabilitation.

Whether philanthropy will climb higher than No. 4 position in the nation's business ladder depends largely upon what portion of the individual citizen's budget can be spared for charity. Perhaps the $6.5 billion now going to charity does not seem so large when one realizes this is only 2 per cent of the national income.

We Teach The Child

I have never received a mail on any subject that is equal in size or in intelligence as has come concerning education. That there is a general dissatisfaction with teacher training and supervision is witnessed by the fact that many teachers complain that teachers' colleges are so devoted to techniques that they have forgotten that the teacher ought to know what she is teaching. In this connection, I quote from a letter from a teacher:

"... I had loved the university, I had loved to study; but, last summer I had a very unpleasant time at the School of Education. I found that the courses had no intellectual content, that they were definitely not challenging, and that a colossus has arisen in American education, a colossus that is self-perpetuating and thoroughly obnoxious. The courses were filled with vagaries and slogans, such as 'We teach the child, not the subject.' I had no idea what this kind of highly obscure writing means; I still don't.

"The first few weeks I tried to read my texts and to do a good job at the courses, but I was soon completely disillusioned; I did no work at all, but I passed with B's. It is a standing joke around the campus—no one fails an Education Course. The colossus I speak of is this: no value is placed on information, only on methods of teaching. These methods are all theory and are couched in a kind of artificial technical terminology designed to mystify the laity..."

Methodology is, I suppose, of some value but how can it be a substitute for knowing the content of a subject? History, for instance, is one of the most difficult subjects to teach, because if properly taught, it is not a matter of names, places, and times but of ideas, forces and movements that influence human thought and action. History is the account of things that happen and the effect of those happenings upon human beings. If there were no such effects, the events would not be important to us.

To know history, even to teach it to young people, requires competent reading in philosophy, literature, economics, sociology and anthropology, apart from history. To teach modern history, one needs some knowledge of the natural sciences. This, then, is no dry-astudy subject.

The teachers' colleges became so absorbed in methods and in the psychology of the child that they forgot that a teacher does not just teach; she teaches a subject and ought to be required to know that subject with sufficient competence to inspire the student's interest. Granted that methodology has its value, the subject is the thing.

Of course, religious prejudice is not unusual anywhere and appears in many forms in the United States. It is often aimed particularly at Catholics and Jews, but educated men and women ought to know better and ought not to permit their minds to be cluttered with the rubbish of ages. The least a teacher can do is to avoid passing on to children gossip as demonstrable fact.

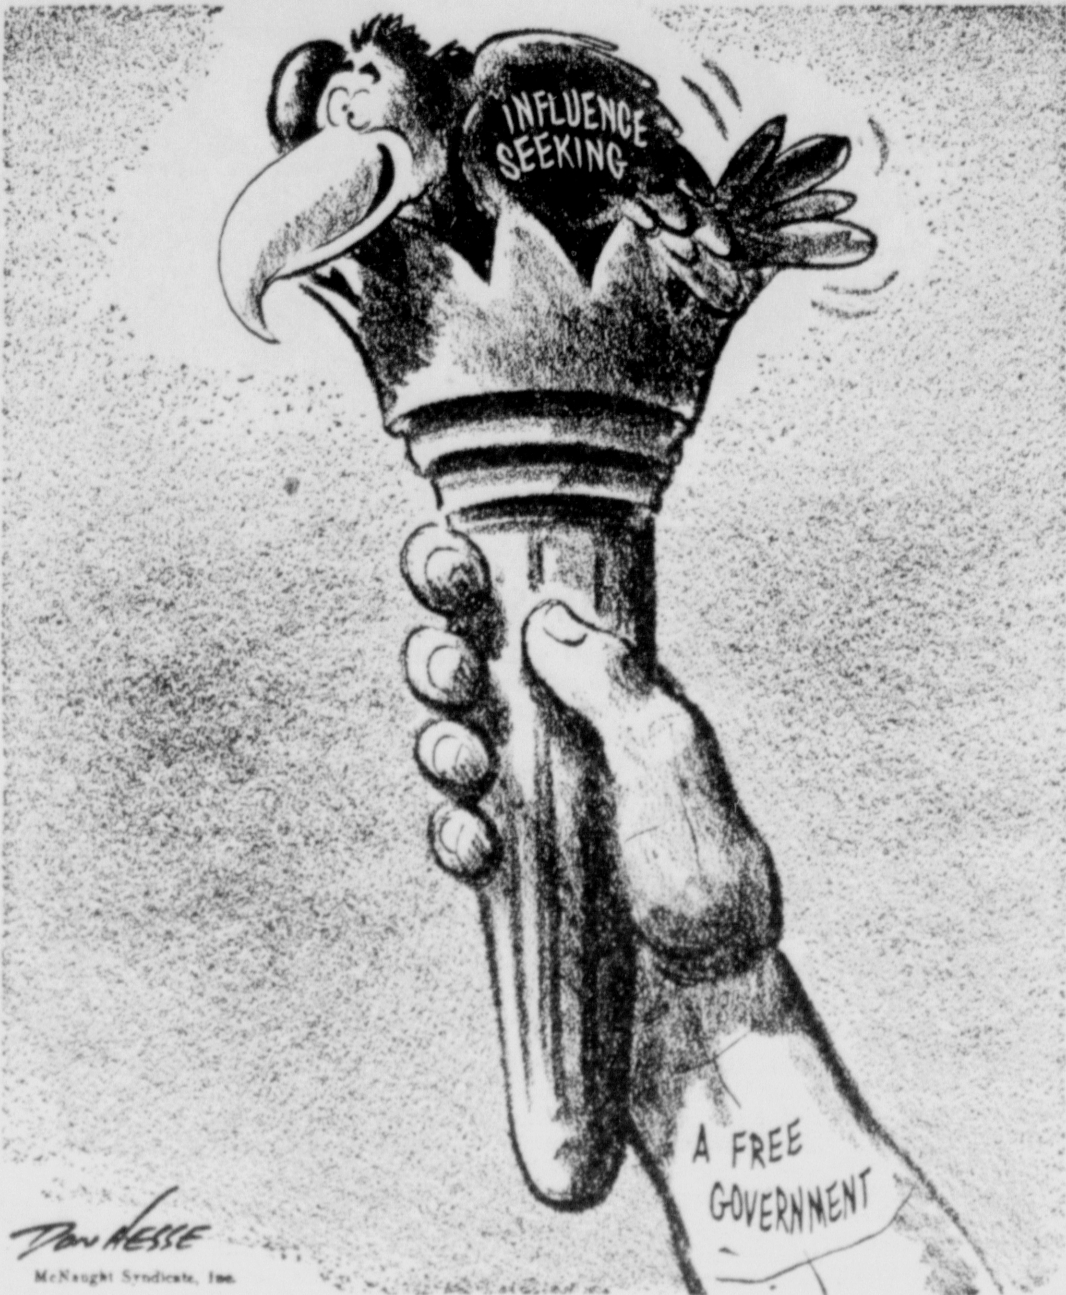

A fight is looming in the New York State Legislature on the subject of the Ten Commandments. It is permissible to post in classrooms the wisdom of Socrates, of Confucius, of Voltaire and even of Karl Marx; but it is not permissible to post the Ten Commandments to remind the children of the moral law.

The opponents of the Ten Commandments contend that to remind children that it is God's law not to murder and steal is to violate the American Constitution, particularly the First Amendment which has nothing to say about the separation of the state from morality. As the school authorities do not wish to get into controversies, they are opposed to posting the Ten Commandments even as a pin-up. So those who favor giving the children an eye-opener that it is wrong to commit adultery have gone to the Legislature to have a law passed making it permissible for a school board to post the Ten Commandments. The bill is encountering some opposition.

It would seem that beaten-up school teachers and the parents of raped and otherwise pregnant daughters would demand that the schools bring a little morality into the classrooms. Only the American Legion, which has made this bill a part of their "Back to God" program, are pushing it.

Stormy Weather Ahead For Britain's Economy?

By Joseph Alsop

LONDON

For some years now, the British Treasury has had the habit of sending an expert mission of inquiry to the United States every six months, just to sniff the American economic air and to see which way the American economic winds are blowing.

The Treasury's habit is a practical acknowledgment of the American economy's absolutely decisive influence on the welfare of the Western nations. The usual British Treasury mission left for Washington just the other day—nearly three months ahead of the usual schedule. And this premature return for another sniff and another look is a mark of the intense concern that the American recession-depression symptoms are beginning to cause here in London.

From this distance, it is not very clear whether the leaders of the Eisenhower administration are aware of the fact. But in London you do not have to be a trained weatherman to forecast a political and economic typhoon over here, if the economic climate in the United States continues to worsen.

There will be no storm, of course, in fact the sailing should be good for the British economy, if President Eisenhower's anti-recession measures are successful. Furthermore, the British Treasury experts still have a marked and heartening confidence in the American officials who practice the strange arts of economic management.

In truth, the British Treasury is about the only place in London, these days, where you are still likely to hear a good word for any part of the U. S. government.

All the same, the big "if" remains. If the trend in the United States is not corrected, what will be painful for us will also be downright catastrophic for Britain. This is inherent in the unhappy situation inherited by Britain's quiet, coolly able and most impressive new Chancellor of the Exchequer, Derick Heathcoat Amory.

The best way to describe this situation is to say that Britain is like a bank with sadly inadequate reserves. The effect of a continued American recession will be to drive the bank's customers to draw heavily on their bank balances. If this goes on too long, it can become a run on the bank. In basic terms, it really is almost as simple as that.

More specifically, the money now on deposit in London, mostly from countries of the sterling area, currently amounts to considerably more than 3,500,000,000 pounds. Britain's present hard currency reserves are only about 900,000,000 pounds, or approximately a quarter of the amount on deposit.

Many of the most important depositors are raw material producers, like Malaya with its rubber, Rhodesia with its copper and Kuwait with its oil. Most of them are accustomed to making much of their incomes by sales to the United States. So they are automatically hard hit when raw materials prices drop and there is less American demand for their raw materials.

The most extreme case, at present, is Rhodesia, whose whole development program is based on a world copper price more than two and a half times higher than the current world price. As yet the phenomenon is spotty. For example, Australia's wool is

No Sense In Worrying About Being Overweight

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Weight consciousness among Americans has made us a nation of neurotics on the subject. It is time to change our attitude and decide first whether any benefit will follow reducing. Too many individuals take weight reduction so seriously their mind is preoccupied with calories. The tension created by the pressure to lose weight nullifies any health benefits slimmness might produce.

There is no doubt that in some, obesity is a handicap and affects longevity by encouraging high blood pressure, diabetes, arteriosclerosis, and other diseases. Weight reduction does not necessarily correct all of these disorders, nor does it guarantee a longer and healthier life. Much depends upon the person, the diet, and the circumstances that led to the portliness.

Many men and women become so unhappy, nervous, restless, and irritable when weight is lost they are better off remaining chubby. Statistics show that these people soon regain any weight lost by dieting, despite the best medical advice. This must be a prevalent situation because only 30 per cent of dieters remains slim after losing weight.

The other 70 per cent see-saw back and forth, especially in April, when individuals change to spring clothes, and after Labor day, when there is a switch to winter clothes. Many stop dieting because they fail to feel and look as good as they thought they would.

There is said to be a 10 per cent decrease in life expectancy for every 10 per cent increase over ideal weight. Many physicians raise the question as to what constitutes ideal weight. It must be judged on muscle build, the amount of fat under the skin, and the weight at which the individual performs best.

Italians, for example, are prone to plumpness yet their incidence of hardening of the arteries is low. They tend to overeat foods high in carbohydrates. In this country, the excess calories come from fat, which may explain why our tummies develop more complications.

A SET PROCEDURE

Mrs. Y. writes: What is inductive labor?

REPLY: Labor induced by medicine or instruments. In the majority of instances, plans are made ahead of time to have a baby on a certain date. It is not recommended by the majority of physicians unless the mother-to-be lives a great distance from the hospital or has had rapid labors previously. Labor also may be induced if there are obstetrical complications.

said not too sadly. Without a word, the city gal pulled a flask out of her reticule.

"Hot diggity!" enthused the Lothario. "Scotch or rye?"

Protocol Problem Stymies Truman; No More Housing Trouble For Beck

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Ex-President Truman, holding old home week with friends in Washington, told about his protocol problems when he dedicated his library in Missouri.

"I had the ex-President of the United States, Mr. Hoover, as my guest," he explained. "I also had the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the majority leader of the Senate, the minority leader of the House."

"And I didn't know what precedence to give them or how to handle them. So I wrote Mrs. Helm and asked what I should do."

He referred to Mrs. Edith Helm, social secretary and arbiter of the White House during the Truman administration. "What do you suppose she wrote back to me?" continued Mr. Truman. "She said, 'You never paid any attention to protocol while you were President, why should you worry about it now?'"

Washington Pipeline

The Teamsters Union won't have to worry now about letting Dave Beck live in his swank Seattle home which he once sold to the union for $160,000 but wants to continue occupying. Beck will now live in the "big house" as the guest of Washington State. . . . President Eisenhower was beverage-neutral during his bridge-playing marathon in Georgia. His partners were Ellis Slater, former head of Frankfort Distillers, a whisky man, and William E. Robinson, head of Coca-Cola, a soft-drink man. . . . The Democrat who is going to run against Congressman Heselton, Massachusetts Republican, following his attempts to hush up the TV investigation, is Dr. James Burns, Williams College professor and author of the famous book on FDR, "Roosevelt: The Lion and The Fox."

. . . . Betty Beale, vivacious society columnist who usually writes inside society for the Washington Star, has written "Inside Georgetown" for Esquire Magazine now on the stands. . . . Some members of the Harris Committee are eying possible perjury charges against Perrine Palmer, Jr., ex-Mayor of Miami, who asked pointedly whether there was a wire recording made of his statements to Congressional investigators. Informed that there was not, he proceeded to backtrack on what he had told investigators. One investigator who interviewed him was Oliver Eastland, nephew of the Senator from Mississippi, a highly competent prober.

Kindness Pays Off

You can never tell when a good deed is going to come home to roost; or so Dr. Haim Sheba, famed Israel medical expert, found when he visited New York the other day.

Dr. Sheba, director of the Tel Hoshomer Hospital in Tel Aviv, has been working on some fascinating blood history which goes back to the lost tribes of Israel. When he asked funds from the Rockefeller Foundation to help his research, they asked him to talk to Dr. Ruggero Cepellini. The learned Israeli doctor thought he was getting the run-around, but shortly thereafter Dr. Cepellini, a young and stocky Italian, bounced into his hotel room.

"Don't you remember me?" he asked.

Dr. Sheba admitted he didn't. "I was your prisoner," said Dr. Cepellini. "I was your prisoner of war. I was in the Italian Army during the war, taken prisoner by the British and sent to Palestine where I served under you. I was a sergeant and you placed me in charge of one of your laboratories. I will never forget your kindness to me and to all the other Italian prisoners."

Since the war Dr. Cepellini has progressed from a sergeant and a prisoner to being one of the foremost doctors of Italy. Like Dr. Sheba, he too is a blood specialist and was greatly interested in Dr. Sheba's plan to further search the blood traits of the Mediterranean. The ex-war prisoner and his former captor will research together.

Tax Loopholes

Members of the Ways and Means Committee, trying to figure out what to do about cutting taxes, pricked up their ears as Paul Ziffren, Los Angeles Democratic National Committeeman, told them:

"The only people who pay the full tax rate today are the conscientious or powerless."

Ziffren contended that executives who pay regular salaries and workers who are paid regular wages are subsidizing the Texas oilmen.

"The idea that we have a progressive rate of taxation is only a facade," Ziffren told them. "Though our tax bracket goes way up, actually the effective tax averages only 28 per cent. This is because those in the upper brackets can avoid taxes through capital gains, through depletion allowances, and through state and local bond issues which are tax free. Even for those who make a million dollars or more per year, the average tax collection is only 50 per cent instead of around 90 per cent as it should be."

"In 1956," continued Ziffren, "the personal income of the United States was $325 billion. But the total tax collected on that was only $32-1/2 billion—as a result of the loopholes in our tax laws."

Ziffren pointed out that all sorts of industries now have depletion allowances. The oyster and clam shell industries are permitted depletion allowances, just as the oil, gas, and coal industries have oil depletion allowances. In 1918 with a 5-1/2 per cent allowance for one year, it decreased in 1927 up to 27-1/2 per cent, where it remains. Ziffren advocated a bipartisan committee to study taxes and produce equality in taxation. Congressmen Eberhardt of Pennsylvania, Mills of Arkansas, and King of California, Democrats, seemed to like the idea. Congressman Reed, Republican of New York, author of the present tax bill which provides the loopholes, sat stolidly, said nothing.

U. Of Md. Traveler

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK, Feb. 26—(INS)—You don't have to join the Navy to see the world. Instead, become an assistant to Dr. Ray Ehrenberger, dean of Maryland University's College of Special and Continuation Studies and go where the good doctor goes.

The campus extends over a great portion of the globe. The students—American military personnel and civilians working abroad—attend 140 teaching centers in 18 countries. Weather ranges from deep-frozen Thule Air Force Base in northern Greenland to the shocking heat of Dhahran, Saudi Arabia. There were 20,000 registered at last count, some striving for high school diplomas, some for masters' degrees in complex sciences, others simply taking a language course. Maryland offers a full tray.

"The University of the World," as it is sometimes called, does a smart job of preserving a semblance of college atmosphere and strengthening the slim ties to the apron strings of alma mater. Films of Maryland football games are rushed to the far-off places; periodicals flutter out from College Park, Md., like a blizzard, and there is even an effort to do it with school songs and yells. But the most durable link is Dean Ehrenberger, an academician with muscles.

He has flown oceans and trackless lands to award a diploma to a single product of his school. His professors sometimes shuttle hundreds of miles a day between classes. His willing aides in the Air Force have dropped textbooks by parachute to an igloo-like school above the Arctic Circle. The caps and gowns worn by the 28 GIs who graduated at Heidelberg not long ago were flown from Albany, N. Y.

Dr. Ehrenberger's assistant, Edward F. James, captures the scope and imagination of the colossal experiment in education in these words:

"The long-nosed jet appeared suddenly from the darkening eastern sky and swooped down through the frozen hills to land on an illuminated runway. The pilot, when his plastic canopy was jerked back, climbed out wearily and unbuttoned the chin strap of his crash helmet. The reconnaissance had been, as usual, tense—the kind of flight that took a lot out of a man.

"Ordinarily he would have eaten supper, read a magazine and gone to bed, monotonously preparing himself for his next assignment. But tonight he was going to college—thousands of miles from home—to try to learn what were capital gains and how they would affect the financial structure of a consultative engineering firm which he intended to start when he completed his tour of duty. His campus was a strategic U. S. A. F. base. A quonset served as his ivy-covered classroom building."

The project—since copied by the University of California, Louisiana State University and others—began modestly enough. First function of the special college was the off-campus education of adult Marylanders desiring to continue their school work. Scouts took note of the number of would-be students in military installations within the state. Then, somebody in the Pentagon asked Maryland to supply a speech professor for special instructions to public relations personnel. That was it, and it has never stopped growing.

"The educational phenomenon of this age," Dr. Loren Reid, professor of speech at the University of Missouri, says of the Maryland venture. "As an imaginative concept I rank it ahead of the founding of the American summer school and the American junior college. The summer school found a new time for education, the summer months; the junior college found a new space, the large towns and cities; the Overseas Program found both."

Picture, then, the American underground in Asmara, Ethiopia; in Sidi Dimane, French Morocco; Idar-Oberstein, Germany; Athens, Rome, Tripoli, and Izmir in Turkey. Or in Stratford-on-Avon, Yokohama, Pusan, Naha (Okinawa), Narasarsuak (Greenland), Keflavik (Iceland), Goose Bay (Labrador).

Entirely self-supporting, by the way . . . which further compounds the pleasantly inspiring miracle.

Westernport Removes Restrictions On Water

Pump Capacity Will Be Increased

WESTERNPORT — Alvin P. Pence, water commissioner announced last night that restrictions on use of water at the 17-foot level, is now filled to the 10-foot mark, he stated. In addition, plans have been completed for installing a larger booster pump in the wood yard area near the paper mill. There is a 300 gallon per minute pump in operation there, but this will be increased to a 1,000 gallon per minute pump capacity. However, the lines will deliver around 500 gallons a minute, he said.

In lifting the restrictions, Mr. Pence urged all citizens to be conservative in the use of water until the present crisis is past. Much of the trouble, he believes, is because residents have acquired a habit of letting a faucet run during freezing weather to prevent water in pipe lines from freezing.

Special License Tag Numbers Are Available In W. Virginia

CHARLESTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—frain from sending payment for Motor Vehicles Commissioner Hu-ber Kelly explained today that his department would not answer mail it receives requesting special license plate numbers.

Kelly told newsmen earlier that applications for special numbers must be in March 15. He added that his department was starting from scratch this year on the special numbers problem.

The commissioner explained that, before he assumed his present office, a former employee of the Motor Vehicles Department destroyed the old card file for such numbers.

Kelly stressed that persons who have held certain license plate numbers in the past must send in new requests before March 15. Actually, the same requirement generally has been in effect in past years.

He said that if numbers requested are available, they will be set aside and persons requesting them will receive special number cards at the time the department mails new registration cards to them.

Kelly also urged persons requesting special numbers to re-

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP) — the emergency program should be continued.

"We have been assured," the senators added, "that a sufficient quantity of surplus foods will be sent to West Virginia to meet the requirements of those in need of food. We are asking the department to make a larger variety of foodstuff, particularly shortening, available, and we will continue to press this matter."

"We expect the arrangements agreed on will prove satisfactory to all concerned in meeting with the present emergency."

Revercomb and Hoblitzell said Underwood was in complete agreement with the plan and will work out final details of the program.

"The emergency program," the senators said in a joint statement, "will remain in effect for a period of four months. One month prior to expiration of the emergency period, the Department of Agriculture and the West Virginia Department of Public Assistance will jointly review the situation to determine whether Adv. Senior Mystery

Mt. Savage High
Play In Rehearsal

MT. SAVAGE — "Home Sweet Homicide," a three-act mystery will be presented by the Senior Class of Mt. Savage High School, March 11 at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium under the direction of R. Blaine Gainer, dramatics instructor.

Those who have been cast in lead roles are: Sue Ann Lepley, Dale Thomas, Doris Harden, Carole Frankenberry, Steve Bittner, James Glass, and Carolyn Black.

Those enacting character parts are Frank Hansrote, Ronnie Lashbaugh, Irvin Lavin, Charles Goebel, Shirley Turley, Mary Spataro, Richard Arnold, James Birmingham, Dale Geary, Virginia Ricewick, Georgianna Harden, Dewey Sansom, and Peggie Carter.

Plot Has Romance

The plot has the usual mystery ingredients with a dash of romance. The Carstairs never dreamed that a major crime would take place right next door! The young people, led by Dinah, are trying to run the household while their widowed mother writes mystery stories to support them. Dinah wishes they could find an ideal man to marry mother off to. The others feel that what their mother really needs is a big publicity break on her next novel—so it will be a smash hit.

As they worry about their own dates and their mother—two shots ring out. These shots end the life of a blackmailer and thrust all the Carstairs into a sinister situation. When the good looking police lieutenant appears and he's a bachelor, they are in seventh heaven.

Young Folks Have Problems

With people trying to enter the house of another murder victim, the three young people face another problem. They finally decide to give a party and under cover of the noise enter the house themselves in search of clues.

The excitement mounts swiftly and in a thrill-packed third act, they not only solve the mystery but bring off the romance between mother and Bill.

Piedmont And Ridgeley Open Keyser Sectional Tonight

Deaf School To Play Elk Garden High

Sectional Battles Set For Moorefield And Shepherdstown

West Virginia sectional tournaments for Class B high schools seeking berths in the Region Four event at Shepherd College, March 6, 7 and 8, are scheduled to get under way tonight at Keyser, Moorefield and Shepherdstown.

The fourth sectional in Region Four opens Friday night at Berkeley Springs High School.

What looms as the hottest of the four tournaments is the one at Potomac State College Keyser in which Piedmont, the Potomac Valley Conference champion, and winner of 18 out of 20 games, Fort Ashby, Ridgeley, Elk Garden and the West Virginia School for the Deaf of Romney will participate.

Lions Face Ridgeley
Tonight Coach William "Huck" Miers' Piedmont Lions will tackle Coach Tom O'Connor's Ridgeley High Blackhaws (14-7) at 7 o'clock and Coach Paul Kalbaugh's Elk Garden cagers (11-10) will tangle with the West Virginia School for the Deaf (6-15), coached by Malcolm Norwood, at 8 o'clock.

Fort Ashby's Eagles (15-4), coached by Quentin Sayers will oppose the Ridgeley-Piedmont winner on Friday night at 7 o'clock and second game will get under way at 8. The third place and championship games are set for Saturday at 7 and 8:15 p. m.

Officials for the 16-B event at Keyser are Clifton Van Roby and Frederick "Tack" Clark.

Piedmont holds two decisions over Ridgeley, 59-43 and 60-53. Elk Garden and the Lions from Romney will be meeting for the first time. Fort Ashby dropped a pair to Piedmont, 69-51 and 54-51, and beat Ridgeley twice, 62-59 and 39-37 in overtime.

Only three schools will vie in the two-day 15-B tournament which opens tonight and winds up Friday night at Moorefield High School.

Moorefield In Opener
Coach Guy Probst's Circleville Indians (7-12) will face Johnny Paugh's Moorefield Yellow Jacks (9-12) in tonight's contest at 8 o'clock. Coach Loring "Jummy" Vance's Mathias Blue Eagles (8-13) will play the winner for the sectional title Friday at 8 o'clock. The officials will be John Halterman and Floyd "Pete" Elliott.

Moorefield has split even with Circleville, losing the opener, 57-53, and winning the return game, 96-64. Mathias has dropped two to Moorefield, 54-45 and 54-51, and split even with Circleville, coping the first, 67-56 and dropping the second, 66-57.

Shepherd College at Shepherdstown is the site for the 13-B tournament which gets under way tonight with Musselman High's Applemore (2-14) tangling with Harper's Ferry (6-10) at 7:30 and Ramer, of Martinsburg (0-10) opposing Shepherdstown's Cardinals (10-5) at 8:30.

To Defend Title
Coach Spencer's Hedgesville quint, which has won 12 out of 13 games, will open defense of the sectional title it won last year, by playing the winner of the Musselman-Harper's Ferry tilt on Friday at 7:30. Hedgesville also won the Region Four crown a year ago. Page Jackson High, of Charles Town (7-3), will play the Shepherdstown-Ramer victor in the other semi-final on Friday. The title contest is billed for Saturday night at 8 o'clock. Officials for these games will be the Lightner Brothers.

The 14-B games at Berkeley Springs High School do not get under way until Friday when Capon Bridge (8-12) meets Berkeley Springs (4-14) at 7:30 and Paw Paw's Pirates (16-4), coached by Sid Roach, battle "Pete" Vance's Wardensville Warriors (9-11) at 8:30. The championship game is billed for Saturday at 8:30 and will be preceded by a consolation tilt.

Berkeley Springs, coached by Allen Goldstrom, won, 69-48, and lost to Capon Bridge, 57-53. Paw Paw whipped the Warriors twice, 56-42, and 50-44.

Games At Allegany Tonight Postponed
High School National Division basketball games scheduled for tonight at Allegany High's boys' gym have been postponed by the request of school officials, the Recreation Department announced last night.

The contests, to be played at a later date, included Tri State Memorials vs. Syckes Music; Schmutz Insurance vs. Police Boys Club; and Galen's Tavern vs. Centre Street Methodists.

Three other opening round games on the first day's program pit Mt. St. Mary's (9-3) against Roanoke (8-3), Loyola (9-3) against Catholic U. (10-5) and Hampden-Sydney (10-2) against Johns Hopkins (6-3).

The two semifinal games will be played Friday, and the finals Saturday night.

DETROIT, Feb. 26 (AP) — Coming to life suddenly in the fourth quarter, the St. Louis Hawks swept from behind and defeated the Cincinnati Royals 105-103, before 7,500 in the first game of a National Basketball Assn. double-header at Olympia Stadium tonight.

Baton Rouge Open To Begin

Demaret Is Favored In $15,000 Tourney

BATON ROUGE, Feb. 26 (AP) — The seventh annual $15,000 Baton Rouge Open Golf Tournament starts tomorrow with the weatherman tipping the scales toward defending champion Jimmy Demaret.

But the dapper Demaret, rated the best bad weather golfer in pro ranks, is no sure thing against the best field ever assembled here and probably the top competition of the winter golf circuit.

Several weeks of cold, wet weather produced rough going over the 6,450-yard Baton Rouge Country Club course in the qualifying round yesterday with only six shooting par 72 or better.

Demaret, Ed "Porky" Oliver, who Monday won the $30,000 Houston, Tex., Tourney, Ken Venturi, double winner in winter play, and Dow Finsterwald, who yesterday won the $4,000 Port Arthur, Tex., pro-amateur tournament, head the tough field.

But the sentimental favorites will be a pair of golfers trying to make a comeback, Bob Toski and Ed Furgol.

Acetates Trim Celaperms, 3-0

The Acetates pulled within two games of the top rung in the Celanese Staff Bowling League race last night by trimming the leading Celaperms, 3-0, on the Club Recreation alleys.

In the other loop match the Fortians swept three games from the Arnels to bury the latter deeper in the cellar of the four-team circuit.

High scorers were Francis T. Twigg, 180-532, and Marguerite Mullan, 354, for the Acetates; Bernard Tasker, 194-498, and Mildred Twigg, 340, for the Celaperms; Erma Kreiger, 379, and Francis Stein, 340, Arnels; and Bud Dickerhoff, 382, and Sylvia Sisk, 377, Fortians. The standings:

Red Top Davis To Quit Ring

HARTFORD, Conn., Feb. 26 (AP) — Teddy (Red Top) Davis, veteran boxer, decided today to hang up his gloves. He fought champions and near champions, and in 1955 had an unsuccessful shot at the world's featherweight title.

Davis said he decided to quit after losing a 12-round decision to Hartford's Steve Ward here last night. The bout was for the New England junior welterweight title.

Davis' record includes a victory over one-time lightweight champ Paddy DeMarco in a non-title fight.

Griffin Is Sold To Birmingham

CHARLESTON, Feb. 26 (AP) — The Charleston Senators sold catcher Don Griffin to the Birmingham club of the Southern Assn., General Manager Hillman Lyons announced today.

No other player was involved in the deal, Lyons said. Griffin, 36, batted .277 for the Senators last year.

Lyons said Griffin did not figure in Charleston's 1958 plans but that the parent Detroit Tigers were interested in keeping Griffin in their farm club system because of his managerial ability.

"We hope to get the bulk of our catching from Detroit," Lyons said, "although some of the youngsters on our roster now may fit into our plans."

Late Rally Pulls Out Final Triumph

WESTERNPORT, Feb. 26 (AP) — Keyser High's Golden Tornado, trailing throughout most of the game, pulled out a 56-51 triumph over Bruce High's Bulldogs here tonight with a 25-point rally in the final quarter.

The contest was the regular season finale for both quintets and gave the Tornado five a 15-4 mark for the year. Bruce ended with a dismal 5-16 record.

The home team led until the final three minutes of the game when Keyser caught the Bulldogs at 43-all with 2:30 to play. A goal by Gary Keedy put the winners ahead for the first time, wiping out a seven-point deficit at the close of the third stanza.

High scorers for the winners were Keedy with 16 points and Ronnie Smith with 15. Best nets for Bruce were freshman forward Bill Wiltson with 17 points and Eddie Carder with 16.

Larry Crossland, Bruce center, left the game on personals in the last quarter. The lineups:

Wesleyan Whips Tech Five 93-73

Bobcats Take NAIA Playoffs Crown

GLENNVILLE, W. Va., Feb. 26 (AP) — Hot-shooting West Virginia Wesleyan opened up a 20-point halftime bulge on West Virginia Tech and went on from there to belt the crippled Golden Bears, 93-73, in the District 28 NAIA playoffs tonight.

The victory was Wesleyan's first in the six-year history of the playoff and enabled the Bobcats to compete in the NAIA finals at Kansas City, March 10-15.

The Bobcats went ahead to stay at 13-11 in the opening minutes on a set shot by little Jim Wilkinson. With Ken Remley and Ed Kristofic dominating both boards, the sharpshooting Bobcats pulled gradually ahead to all but sew up the game by intermission when they were atop a 51-31 score. Wesleyan shot a sizzling 60 per cent average during the first 20 minutes of play compared to Tech's 27 per cent.

Sophomore Bill Smith topped the Wesleyan attack with 26 points. Dale Russell, with 20, was high for Tech. The Golden Bears went into tonight's game with their veteran guard Dick Cantley hobbled by an ankle injury and their veteran center, Dick Brown, out with ankle and knee injuries.

Old Germans, Exports Mark Up City Wins

Deadlocked Leaders Will Clash Tonight

The Old Germans overcame a stubborn 40 & 8 quintet with a second half outburst to chalk up an 87-57 win last night on the Carver High floorboards to tie the Square Garden main event Fri.

Moose cagers for the lead in the second-half race of the City Baseball League. Both teams sported 6-1 marks.

The triumph set the stage for the clash tonight at 8 o'clock between the deadlocked leaders on the Fort Hill Boys Gym floor. The single City League game between the Old Germans and the But Tibbs, a busy little fellow, Moose will probably go a long way toward deciding the second half victors in the six-club circuit.

In another loop engagement last night at Carver the Old Exports romped over the Knights of Columbus, 108 to 73.

In the Old Germans game Jimmie Eckard with 20 and Ronnie Diehl with 18 were the high-point men for the winners. Best for 40 & 8 was Ed Riley with 15 tallies. Bob Pence put the Old Exports ahead, 20-19, in the other clash after the score had been tied five times, and the victors increased their margin steadily thereafter. Pence was the big gun for the winners with 34 points while Norm Geatz had 22 for the Knights of Columbus.

The Rec Department announced last night that the Chaney's originally scheduled tonight at Fort Hill has been cancelled.

West Virginia Lands Pair On All-Conference Cage Team

Jerry West, Sharrar Are Picked By AP

Flora, Lange And Guarilia Also Put On All-Star Five

BY ED YOUNG

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 26 (AP)—Powerful West Virginia, which since 1955 has ruled Southern Conference basketball with an iron hand, today landed two top players on the 1958 All-Conference team.

Lloyd Sharrar, a 6-10 senior whose rebounding has been a major factor in making West Virginia a contender for No. 1 national ranking, and Jerry West, a 6-3 sophomore who leads the team in scoring, were named to the honor squad announced by the Associated Press.

Others on the All-Conference five are Dom Flora of Washington and Lee, the league's leading scorer; Roy Lange of William and Mary, and Gene Guarilia of George Washington.

No One Unanimous

In balloting conducted by conference coaches, sports writers and radio-TV sportscasters, the five proved relatively easy winners. But for the first time in years, no one was a unanimous choice.

Sharrar and West came closest. Each was named to a first team berth on all but 2 of the 42 ballots. Flora missed first team nomination on only three ballots.

Sharrar and Flora are the only holdovers from the 1957 All-Southern team. Guarilia was a second-team choice last year.

Sharrar, called by Coach Fred Schauss the hardest worker on the West Virginia club, is from Meadville, Pa. and has starred for the Mountaineers for three seasons. He hauled down 332 rebounds in the Mounties' first 22 games and posted a scoring average of 12.3.

Fills Handley Shoes

West accepted the assignment of filling the shoes of Rod Handley this year and came through in sensational fashion. A native of East Bank, W. Va., he's the only player on the All-Conference team whose home is in the conference area. He averaged 17.5 points per game through West Virginia's first 22 outings and captured 248 rebounds.

Flora, the versatile "Mr. Everything" for Washington and Lee, scored at a rate of 25.2 per game in his first 22 starts while enjoying his fourth consecutive 500-point-plus season. He stands 6-2 and is the shortest member of the honor team. Flora, a senior, makes his home in Jersey City.

Lange, a 6-4 junior from Chicago, was one of the most pleasant surprises of the season. After a so-so 1957 season in which he averaged only 8.8 points per game, he developed into one of the league's best drivers and after 23 games was averaging 20.3 for the Indians.

Two On Second Team

Guarilia stands 6-6 and, like Lange, is a junior. His work under the boards and his 16.8 scoring average helped George Washington bounce back from a 3-21 season in 1956 to a role as a dark-horse for the conference championship. He's from Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

West Virginia also placed two men on the second team. Don Vincent and Bob Smith of the Mountaineers, were chosen for the No. 2 squad along with Art Musselman of The Citadel, freshman Bobby Ayersman of Virginia Tech, and Roy Peschel of Richmond.

Honorable mention went to Dick Wright, Byron Pinson and Tom Conrad of Furman; Dick Wherry of The Citadel; Bucky McDonald of George Washington; Semi Mintz and Dave Hollingsworth of Davidson; Lee Southard and Ralph Lawson of VMI; Chris Smith and Earl Gilbert of Virginia Tech; Joey Gardner of West Virginia, and Larry Rauppus of Richmond.

Bernard Destroyed After Fall In 3rd

BOWIE, Md., Feb. 26 (AP)—Two thoroughbreds fell and one of them had to be destroyed today at Bowie Race Course. The track has been in bad shape since a 16-inch snowfall Feb. 15.

Twice the remainder of the program was almost called off, but it was finally completed. Whether there will be racing tomorrow is in doubt.

Bernard fell in the first race, breaking his left shoulder, and was destroyed. Jockey Charles McKee was not hurt and came back to ride in the third. The spectacular fall occurred at the three-sixteenths pole.

In the seventh race, Battle Over, one of the chances fell in the identical spot of Bernard's accident. Battle Over struggled to his feet and galloped on behind the field. Jockey Sidney Cole was shaken up but otherwise uninjured. Two other horses stumbled badly in the second race on the deep, holey track but did not fall.

Police had learned of the girl's death when the boy walked into a police station and reported it. "I don't know why I did it," they quoted him as saying.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

To Whittle A Middle

Don't forget for a minute that the extra padding that accumulates at a midriff not only spoils its contours, but loses all hope of willowy grace for you. Taping it off isn't merely a matter of losing weight; it's also a restorer of the torso flexibility you must have for beauty in motion.

Fortunately, superfluous waist-line inches can be whittled off in many ways during the course of a day's usual activities. You can make a point of never slumping down into your waist while you sit. You can always pull your rib cage out of your hips while you stand or walk.

Then it's always possible to take advantage of the stretching that can be done along with household chores. A long reach up to a high shelf is as good as a short stoop down to the floor. If you must sit most of the day, take every opportunity to stretch all you can, standing with your feet together and reaching for the ceiling first with one hand then with the other until you feel a strong pull at your waist.

But if a spare tire of real diameter has encircled you, also go in for a strenuous exercise which you allow special time for every day. Here's a good one:

Lie on your back on the floor with both legs out straight. Bend your arms so that your head rests on your hands. Bend your right knee until it almost touches your chest. Twisting your waistline, try to touch your right knee to the floor on your left side without raising your shoulders off the floor. Relax to the starting point.

Then, raise the right knee again and with the same kind of twist, try to touch it to the floor on your right side. Relax before you give your left leg a similar workout. Repeat ten times with each leg and gradually increase to twenty times daily.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 26 (INS)—Ronnie, whom I have known since he was wheeled past my $121,900 in Boston on January 17, 1950, in one of the boldest robberies of the century, has I know. He tells me that every agreed to let Brynne Foy film the story using the name "Brink" for that he is getting married. "One Columbia. He goes east to talk time I didn't even know the girl," with Joseph (Specs) O'Keefe, the member of the gang whose information helped capture the eight holdup men. O'Keefe has not yet been sentenced.

When Universal-International made "Seven Bridges to Cross" three years ago, based on Joseph Dineen's story in Collier's, the name "Brink" was never mentioned because permission was withheld. In fact, U-I said they were not telling the story of the Brink robbery, although it was very similar. Tony Curtis and George Nader were the stars.

Busy, busy Al Zugsmith has turned over the Good Housekeeping story "One Wife Is Enough" to Larry Ronas to adapt. It will follow "High School Confidential."

Al has his eye on Jean Simmons for one of the top roles, but Jean has a picture in Europe to make after she finishes "Home Before Dark" for Mervyn Le Roy, so it cannot be made for some months.

The story by Gwen Davenport is a light dramatic comedy, the type of thing Jean does so well.

Just heard from New York that Tommy Sands has made arrangements to enter the Lee Strasberg Dramatic School. Tommy comes home for a few weeks at the end of his tour in which he has been exploiting "Sing Boy Sing" and being mobbed by enthusiastic 'teen-agers.

I thoroughly approve of dramatic schools, but I would hate to see Tommy become stylized. However, Strasberg has done a great job with his daughter, Susan, with Marlon Brando, the late Jimmy Dean, and others who have worked with him. Tommy has a natural boyishness and spontaneity I wouldn't want to see changed.

I was invited to have dinner with Gracie Allen and George Burns and listen to Ronnie's new record. All on his own he had a record made and he really has a very good voice.

Market Advances Quietly, Ending String Of Losses

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP)—The stock market rose quietly but substantially today as it ended a string of five daily setbacks.

The rise added an estimated 1 1/2 billion dollars to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the rise in the Associated Press average.

The rally was the best since Feb. 14.

Defense Secretary McNamara helped spur the airframe when he told senators the administration will soon ask for more than $1,300,000,000 in additional military spending this year.

Volume totaled 1,880,000 shares compared with 1,920,000 yesterday. U. S. Steel was the most active stock, up 1 1/4 at 59 on 45,000 shares. Second was Lorillard, up 1/4 at 42 1/2 on 37,400 shares. Third was Benetton, up 1/4 at 1 1/4 on 30,900 shares.

Next came General Motors, unchanged at 34 1/4, and Standard Oil (N.J.) up 1/4 at 48 1/4.

Colorado Fuel & Iron was active but unchanged as it voted a stock dividend in place of a cash payment. Penn-Texas also was heavily traded and unchanged following the shake-up in its top echelon.

Wheeling Steel cut its dividend to 50 cents from 85 cents and dropped 1/4 but other steels went to town. Youngstown Sheet jumped 2 1/4. U. S. Steel 1 1/4, Lukens 1 1/4 and Republic 1/4, trading late in the session on a 10,000-share block.

McClure's statement that the B32 program needed a speed-up helped Boeing which rose 1/4. Douglas Aircraft rose 1/4. United 1/4, Lockheed 1/4 and Martin 1/4.

Former Local Man Killed In Bomber Crash

Lt. Alvin B. Storey Dies In SAC Plane

A former Cumberland man was killed yesterday when a Strategic Air Command jet bomber crashed and exploded in central Ohio. (Picture on Page 1.)

First Lt. Alvin B. Storey, 25, was riding as an additional pilot for training when the RB 47 reconnaissance bomber plunged to the ground six miles south of Lancaster, Ohio.

Lt. Storey was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin B. Storey, formerly of Buckingham Road, The Dingle, and now of Charlotte, N. C. His father worked at Amcelle plant of Celanese Corporation of America from 1930 to 1950, and was superintendent of the textile manufacturing section here when he was transferred to Charlotte.

The six-jet airplane, based at Lockbourne Air Force Base near Columbus, was on a training flight when it crashed.

Witnesses said the plane roared low over a hill, then plunged almost straight down near an unoccupied house and a gas line compressor station.

The crash tore a huge crater in the ground and scattered bits of wreckage over a wide area.

Reese Carpenter, an employee at the compressor station, said the plane came out of low clouds at about a 45-degree angle.

Lt. Storey graduated from Allegany High School in 1949, attended Bullis Preparatory School in Washington for two years, then entered the U. S. Military Academy, where he graduated in 1953.

He lived at Obetz, Ohio, with his wife, Frances Ann, and their daughter, Linn, 2. Also surviving, besides his parents, are a brother, Frederick, a dental student at Temple University, and a sister, Edith Ellen, at home.

Others killed in the crash, all attached to the 26th Reconnaissance Wing at Lockbourne, were First Lt. Theodore L. Jenner, 26, aircraft commander of Evanson, Ill., and First Lt. Earl N. Fogle, 27, navigator, of Pittsburgh. The name of the fourth crewman was withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Brode Files For County Commissioner

A second Democratic candidate for county commissioner and the first Republican candidate for the State Central Committee both filed officially with the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors yesterday.

The Democratic candidate for county commissioner is William J. Brode, RFD 1, Frostburg, who resides at Clarysville.

Mr. Brode, who is a charter member of Clarysville Volunteer Fire Company, formed in 1942, manages the Clarysville Fire Hall. He also is a member of the Eckhart Square Circle Sportsmen's Club and the Woodmen of the World of Frostburg. He has managed the fire hall the past seven years.

A native of Hoffman, Mr. Brode is married and is the father of three children. He attended Beall High School in Frostburg. Previously filed for county commissioner on the Democratic ticket was James P. Russell of Mt. Savage, who filed in December.

Jerry G. Clise, Miller Mines, RFD 1, Frostburg, became the first candidate to file for the Republican State Central Committee. He paid a $10 filing fee, which is now required of all candidates for a state central committee or for party political convention. They formerly paid no fee, as they get no salary.

Another Frostburg area man, Leonard D. Miller, RFD 1, Frostburg, announced yesterday that he too will be a candidate for the Republican State Central Committee subject to the May 20 primary election.

Mr. Miller is steward at the Shaft Fire Hall. His son, Lt. Francis Miller, now on active duty at Andrews Air Force Base near Washington, now is a member of the GOP committee.

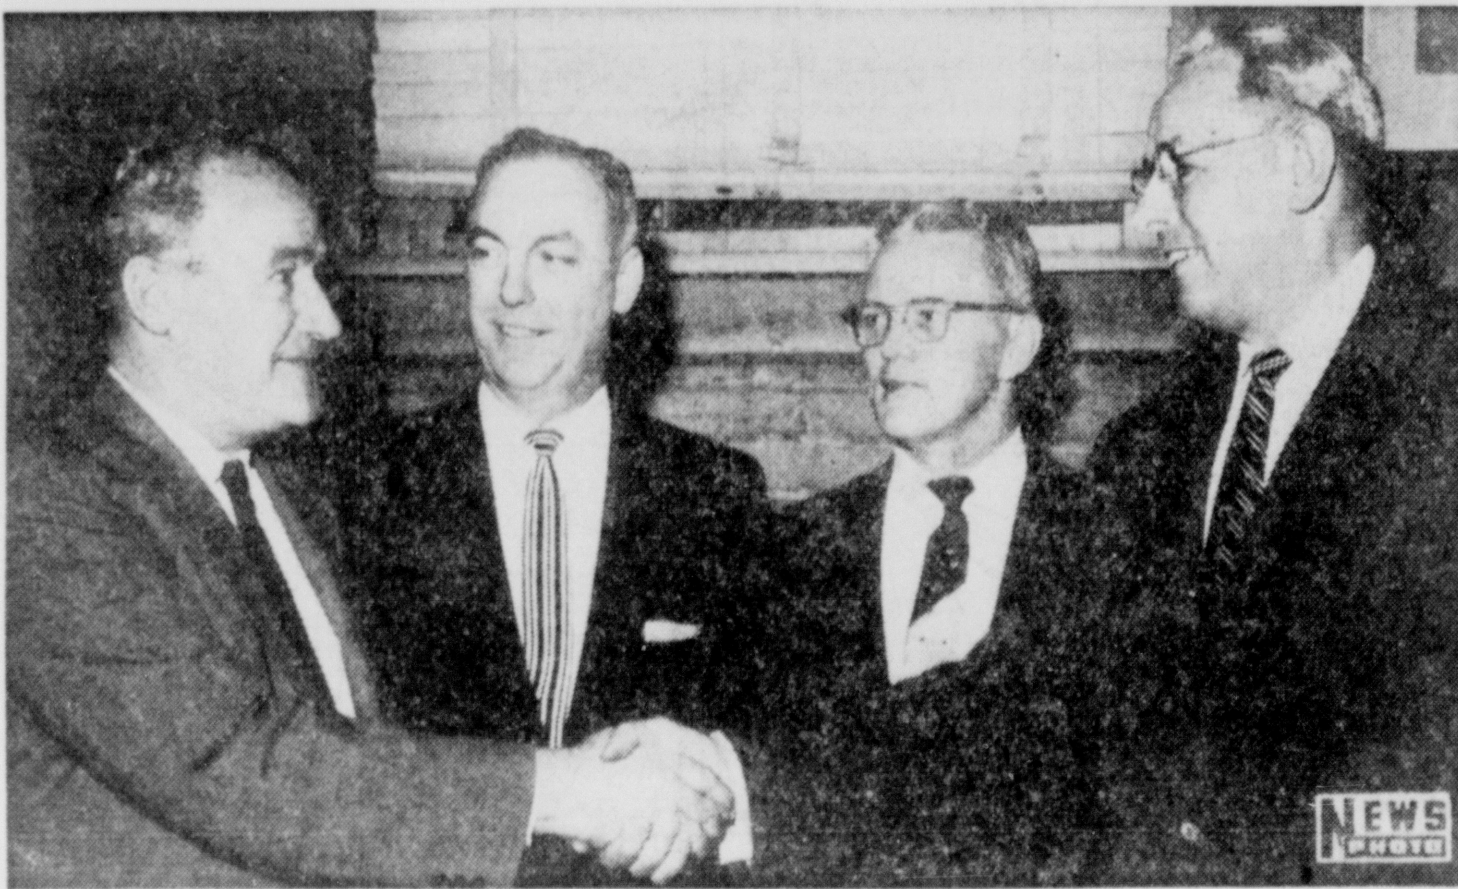

So far 26 Republican candidates have filed officially and three Democrats. The filing deadline is midnight Monday, March 10.

Hazelwood Bids $865,410 For Allegany Job

School Board Gets Four Offers

An apparent low bid of $865,410 to build an addition to Allegany High School featuring the largest gymnasium in Allegany County was submitted to the Board of Education yesterday by the George F. Hazelwood Company, this city.

There was only $2,640 between the Hazelwood proposal and the next lowest bid of $868,050, submitted by the George Construction Company.

Other bidders were the Charles R. Scrivener Company, Baltimore, $898,000, and Samuel N. Zarpas, Tuxedo, in Prince George's County, $930,000.

The bids were opened by Dana Johannes of the Silver Spring architectural firm of Johannes and Murray, which drew up the plans and specifications for the Allegany addition. As he opened each of the four bids he turned it over to Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster.

Will Award Contract

Besides representatives of the interested bidders others on hand for the bid opening included William H. Geppert, attorney to the Board of Education; Joseph M. Miller, this city, one of the five members of the Board of Education, and William Blocker, also of the Johannes and Murray firm. Mr. Webster indicated after the bid opening that the Board of Education probably will meet within a week to award the contract, which undoubtedly will go to the Hazelwood firm.

Six alternates were submitted with each of the four bids and the school superintendent indicated interest in accepting two of the six. One alternate will add $2,966 to the cost of the Hazelwood bid. It calls for cut limestone steps and paving in lieu of concrete finish at the main entrance landing and steps to the gymnasium along the Sedgwick Street side of the addition. Another alternate would add $3,494 to the Hazelwood price. It calls for electrically-operated windows in lieu of mechanically-operated windows in the gym.

With these two alternates, which the Board of Education presumably will be asked to approve, the Hazelwood total bid would amount to $871,870 or $4,364 less than the comparable figure of $876,234 submitted by the George firm.

Improvements Listed

There will be an enclosed corridor linking the new addition to the existing school. It will run along the edge of the school property nearest Rose Hill Cemetery. There also will be a breezeway linking the existing school and the addition along the Sedgwick Street edge of the building.

The gymnasium floor will be 100 by 123 feet in size and there will be seating accommodations for 2,110, including 716 in a balcony along the Sedgwick Street end of the gymnasium.

Also included in the addition are shower rooms, four music rooms and two art rooms. The present obsolete gymnasium will be converted for use as a library.

This Allegany High School project is earmarked for $954,000 of the $1,200,000 included in a supplemental school building program approved by the General Assembly in Annapolis last year. Half of the cost is being borne by the county and the rest comes from state incentive funds.

Md. Roads Bill Gets Support Of Committee

The House Ways and Means Committee yesterday gave unanimous approval to House Bill 119 which would revise priorities in Maryland's long-range highway program and incorporate new construction.

Earl E. Manges, attorney for the U. S. Route 40 Association, last night issued a statement from Annapolis in which he said that the measure will expedite the construction of highway improvements in Allegany County.

His statement:

"House Bill 119, which will add a considerable number of roads and bridges to the 12-year roads program, was up for consideration today before the House Ways and Means Committee in Annapolis. Attending this hearing for Allegany County were Earl E. Manges, attorney for the Route 40 Association; Judge William C. Walsh, who also spoke in behalf of the Route 40 group and John J. McMullen, member of the State Roads Commission from Allegany County.

"Following the hearing before the committee, a conference was had with all members of the Allegany County Delegation, including Senator Charles M. See; various personnel from the State Roads Commission and Joseph D. Buscher, assistant attorney general. The entire roads program was thoroughly discussed and considered in an effort to expedite the early construction and improvement of the roads program in Allegany County, including the completion of Route 40.

"After a thorough consultation, it was felt this bill will expedite the program which has been designated as the 'Green Book' or revised 15-year program. It will give to Allegany County a greater mileage of construction at an earlier date than had been envisioned when the present program, known as the 'Yellow Book' or original 12-year program, was drawn up.

"In my experience in Annapolis, I never have found all of the members of the delegation, including the state senator, working more harmoniously or doing more wholehearted work in favor of a program than was evidenced in this instance. Members of the Garrett County delegation, including the state senator, also were extremely interested and worked in harmony with the Route 40 Association in an effort to get the maximum mileage of good roads in Allegany and Garrett counties at the earliest possible moment."

Amendment Dropped

Mr. Manges discovered at yesterday's conference that the State Roads Commission earmarks certain projects for each county and exchanges are made on the basis of projects. It also was reported that in this first phase of the current 12-year roads program, Allegany County has got more money for its roads than any other Maryland county.

For that reason, it was decided not to press for an amendment to HB 119 which would have provided that the cost of rescheduled projects must be within money allotments set for each county.

Volunteer Firemen Meet This Sunday

Hope To Avoid Big State Tax Hike Vanishes

McKeldin Prepares Budget Supplement

By HERB THOMPSON
ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 26 (AP) — Legislative hopes of avoiding major increases in the sales and income taxes practically vanished today.

The Board of Revenue Estimates forecast a further drop of $2,205,000 in expected state revenue and Gov. McKeldin prepared a supplemental budget totalling one million dollars to submit to the General Assembly tomorrow.

The two combined will leave finance committees of the House and Senate still needing to raise at least 35 million dollars in new revenue even if they whack Gov. McKeldin's budget 7 million dollars, which was set as an outside goal for trimming.

Chairmen Turnbull and Boone conceded that the money is probably going to have to be raised from within the state's two major taxes—sales and income.

Taxes Must Go Up

"We're either going to have to raise both taxes or tamper with the structure," Turnbull said after receiving the report.

Boone told his House Ways and Means Committee virtually the same thing.

"I don't think the general public has felt the impact of what's going to happen," he said.

Both groups have been hoping since the session started that they could find some way to escape one of the major tax boosts. They have been whittling at an original budget deficit of $38,333,341 left with them by Gov. McKeldin Feb. 5.

That will jump to more than $41,738,341 after his budget supplement comes down tomorrow. More than $500,000 of the new increase in spending is earmarked for state welfare aid.

The budget has been put into a hole by a national economic recession which drew blasts from Maryland Democrats today at both McKeldin's Republican state administration and President Eisenhower's administration.

Del. Jerome Robinson (D-Balto County) told the Ways and Means Committee: "The people of Maryland are finding themselves in an awful squeeze caused by Republican administrations in Washington and Maryland."

Blames Governor

Boone and Turnbull charged that the current state budget plight is "a result of the governor's fiscal policies of postponing the day of reckoning on a sound fiscal program for the state."

The finance chairman said they were "disappointed, but not surprised" at the downward estimates of state tax collections. They had expected them to dip around a million dollars but not by the $2,205,000 predicted.

It was the first time the estimates have been scaled downward during a legislative session. Usually they are increased around this time of year, giving the financing committees a hand in lessening or avoiding tax increases.

The story is told in a sharp dropoff in state income and sales (Cont'd on Page 10, Col. 6)

3 Truckers Are Fined On Gas Law

Three truckers yesterday were the first to be tried in Cumberland for violations of the new state gasoline tax law which was enacted in 1957 by the Maryland General Assembly.

Fined in Trial Magistrate Court by Magistrate Donald W. Mason were John N. Mick, Akron, Ohio; Stanley E. Marsh, Mt. Vernon, Mo., and Walter Sherman, Bergton, Va.

The three truck drivers were arrested yesterday by John J. Devlin and Richard T. Boyle of the State Roads Commission for operating more than a two-axle vehicle in violation of the Maryland Gasoline Tax Law.

The new law states that truckers who use Maryland's highways must either purchase their gasoline within the state or keep a record of the gasoline used and mileage traveled while in the state and pay a tax on this fuel.

Every motor carrier with more than two axles must register with the Maryland Comptroller, Gasoline Tax Division, and keep a satisfactory record of miles traveled in all operations within and without Maryland as well as the amount of fuel used in these operations.

Once a motor carrier is registered with the comptroller, a metal tag is issued and must be displayed on the front of the vehicle. Trucks with these tags may be identified by the patrol or the State Roads Commission.

Operators of trucks, other than those who purchase all their gasoline in Maryland, are required to file a report on their fuel use with the Gasoline Tax Division every three months.

Several states have similar laws and Maryland has a mutual agreement which exempts motor carriers of these states from the gas tax law.

Also exempt from the law are residents of Maryland who own and operate a single vehicle for their own use and not for hire, state and county vehicles and private or public school buses.

Girl Scouts Schedule Four Dinners

Cumberland Council Girl Scouts of America will sponsor four annual dinners this year instead of the usual two, held for parents and daughters of Brownie, intermediate and senior scout troops.

Due to the increase in the number of girls and adults interested in the Girl Scout program here it is no longer possible to hold annual parent-daughter dinners for the entire council, said Mrs. George J. Miller, president. This year, four neighborhood dinners will be held.

District No. 1, West Side, will hold a parent-daughter dinner at St. Mary's Hall March 6 at 6 p. m. Mrs. Frank Hamilton is chairman and Mrs. Joseph Levens is ticket chairman.

District No. 11, Northeast and LaVale parent-daughter dinner will be held March 13 at 6 p. m. in St. Mary's Hall. Mrs. Byron Bonebrake is president and Mrs. Merle Zembower is ticket chairman.

District No. 111, South Cumberland-Wiley Ford dinner will be held at St. Mary's Hall at 6 p. m. on Saturday, March 22. Mrs. George Hurly is dinner chairman and Mrs. James Courtney is ticket chairman.

The Cresaptown neighborhood dinner will be held at Cresaptown Methodist Church, Thursday, March 27 at 6 p. m. Dinner chairman is Mrs. Ralph Phillips, and Mrs. Walter E. Smith is ticket chairman.

District Hit By Sleet And Snow Storm

Chains Are Needed On U.S. Route 40

Cinderling and plowing crews of the Maryland State Roads Commission, given a slight breather in the past couple of days, swung back into action early last night when up to two inches of snow fell in Allegany and Garrett counties.

Chains were recommended for travel on U. S. Route 40 east and west of Cumberland last night. R. E. L. Putnam, assistant district engineer for the SRC, said that over two inches of snow had fallen in Frostburg, where below-freezing temperatures were prevalent last night.

Garrett County, hit by one of the worst snowstorms in years in the past two weeks, was getting its share of new snow yesterday afternoon and evening. Close to two inches had fallen during the day and the temperature was about 27 degrees above.

Rain Forecast

The forecast for today is rain, windy and warmer with rain occasionally moderate to heavy in the east, highs 54-60 north and west and 60-65 south.

Sleety rain which later turned to snow hit Cumberland and the immediate area during the afternoon yesterday. Travel along the highways was hazardous east and west of Cumberland on Route 40 and on State Route 36 along George's Creek.

Unofficially, the temperature rose to about 50 degrees during the afternoon and dipped to 36 by 9 p. m. Robert R. Golden, weather observer at Constitution Park, said the official high yesterday was 45 degrees and the official low was 30 degrees. At 6 p. m. the temperature was 32 degrees.

At least an inch and a half of snow fell in Cumberland by 8 p. m. yesterday and it was still falling about two hours later.

No Real Flood Danger

Mr. Golden pointed out that if temperatures continue the way they have been there will be no real danger of a flood in this area.

In fact, the Potomac River here was falling slightly yesterday evening and it measured about 5.08 feet. It had gone up only about a foot since Tuesday.

Wills Creek was holding its own last night and the rise during the previous 24 hours was hardly noticeable. A prediction of 36 hours of rainfall was received yesterday by City Commissioner William H. Buchholtz who said a five-foot rise is anticipated in Wills Creek.

The prediction was passed on by the Weather Bureau and the rise in Wills Creek was predicted by the Army Corps of Engineers, Buchholtz said. The street commissioner said the city is well equipped to handle the rise in water, and there is no immediate cause for alarm by residents of the Mechanic-Centre streets area.

Flood control maintenance crews have been alerted, flap gates checked and the pumping stations are ready for use. He said contractor's equipment has been removed from the creek on the recommendation of the Corps of Engineers.

Sandbags Are Ready

Yesterday Charles Nuzum, city engineer, received a number of inquiries from business places in respect to their use of part of the shipment of sand bags sent to Cumberland in case of extreme emergency along the flood control project.

He made a check with Rex Dexter, resident engineer for the Corps of Engineers, who received notification from Washington that the 13,000 sand bags are being furnished by the government for protection along uncompleted portions of the flood wall on Wills Creek.

When such emergency work is taken care of, Nuzum said, the bags could be used by business places. A serious flood is not anticipated at this time, although preparations are being made to be ready, he said.

Births

Lt. and Mrs. Patrick G. Helms announce the birth of a daughter yesterday in Charlotte, N.C. The father is stationed with the U.S. Air Force in Greenland. The mother is the former Miss Doris Platt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Platt, former residents of Cumberland.

Pfc. and Mrs. James J. Van announce the birth of a son yesterday in an Army Hospital in Fort Lee, Va. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Boyer, 52 Boone Street while the paternal grandparents are City Police Detective Lieutenant and Mrs. James E. Van, 913 Hill Top Drive.

Memorial Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Meyers, Lonaconing, a son last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Smith, RFD 1, Ridgeley, a son last night.

Firemen Complete First Aid Course

This group of Bowmans Addition firemen and auxiliary members are part of a class which last night completed a basic course in Red Cross first aid training, and voted to proceed into the advanced course immediately. At graduation last night
